Senate Votes Today On Lobbying Probe

Both Parties Support Plan For Inquiry

Approval Certain;
Eight-Man Group
Would Be Set Up

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Senate today took up a resolution to authorize what is being billed as a far-flung search for "improper or illegal" lobbying and political contributions.

A vote was put over until tomorrow.

The measure to set up an eight-man investigating committee of four Democrats and four Republicans was sponsored jointly by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Knowland of California.

Behind it were unanimous endorsements of the Senate Republican and Democratic Policy Committees.

That was enough to guarantee adoption.

Echo Of Case Money Offer

Yet the Senate was sort of pushed into the whole thing as a result of reverberations set up by the disclosure of Sen. Case (R-SD) that he had been offered, and spurned, a $2,500 campaign contribution during the Senate scrap over the natural gas bill.

Around the Capitol there has been no little speculation as to just how deeply the Senate might dig in this election year for evidence of any improper attempts to influence it or its members on the gas bill or other subjects.

Sen. Lehman (D-NY) put it into words today on the Senate floor: "I have that feeling," he said, "that it is necessary to make very clear that the Senate is not going to pussyfoot on this situation or whitewash anybody."

Two Objectives

Johnson declared the committee would have two objectives:

"To expose and bring to light any wrong-doing, and to 'put teeth into the lobby bill,' propose other legislation and not produce 'headlines, heroes and white knights.'"

The money proffered to Case was traced through the hands of two lawyers to the personal funds of President Howard B. Keck of the Superior Oil Co. That company, which deals in crude oil and natural gas, favored passage of the gas bill. The bill, vetoed last week by President Eisenhower, would exempt natural gas producers from direct federal regulation.

A special four-man committee under Sen. George (D-Ga) already is looking into the Case incident alone. The Senate agreed today to extend from Mar. 1 to Mar. 10 the deadline for filing its report on its findings.

Air Force Plane Crash Kills Five

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 21 (AP)—A Boeing KC97 Stratofreighter crashed and burned near the Palm Beach Air Force Base late today and all five crewmen aboard were killed.

Eyewitnesses said the ship burst into flames along the fuselage as it was coming in for a landing.

One witness said the flaming ship struck the ground on the north side of Belvedere Rd., nosed into an embankment and flipped over on its back to skid across the road and into an adjacent field where it was enveloped in flames.

The air base information office said the ship was on a routine flight when it crashed.

Davy Crockett "Best"

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill., Feb. 21 (AP)—Davy Crockett has been named "best all-around marksman" at the Parks Air Force Base, Calif., defense school, Air Training Command headquarters proudly announced today.

2nd Lt. David A. Crockett has set records for the school with the M1 rifle and the .45-caliber pistol.

Tass Executive Won't Say If He Knew Red Spies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—The top-ranking American executive of Tass, the Soviet news agency, refused today to tell Senate investigators whether he has associated with Russian spies.

Harry Freeman, once described by ex-Communist Whittaker Chambers as a "black tie" Communist intellectual, firmly denied however he himself has engaged in espionage.

Freeman, deputy manager for Tass in this country, was one of three Soviet news agency employees called by a Senate Internal Security Subcommittee in a study of how the Kremlin may operate in the United States outside Communist party channels.

There was a strain of irony in today's hearing.

Benjamin Mandel, the committee's research director, read a passage from Chambers' book, "Witness," describing Freeman as a dedicated Communist — the type who "conspires in black ties" with the backing of Soviet arms.

The slight, bald Freeman — wearing a brown suit and brown tie — smilingly declined to comment on the passage or to say whether he ever knew Chambers.

Freeman did recall, however, that Mandel — the man doing the reading — was business manager of the Daily Worker when Freeman worked for that Communist newspaper in the 1920s. Mandel long ago renounced communism and is a veteran committee staff member.

Hagerty's Temper Flares Over Questions About Ike

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 21 (AP)—A usually well-bridled Irish temper got away from James C. Hagerty today in dealing with a fresh barrage of questions about whether President Eisenhower will seek re-election.

Hagerty, White House press secretary, bluntly told newsmen they had better lay off a bit or the President might decide to make his big announcement somewhere other than at a news conference.

On Feb. 8 at a Washington meeting with reporters Eisenhower said he would like to announce his political plans at a news conference and that he probably would.

Today at a news conference a reporter asked Hagerty about the possibility of Eisenhower announcing his political plans at his next

'Unlawful' Spouse Becomes 'Lawful' As Bill Corrected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Right there in print, the bill listed as first among a serviceman's dependents:

"His unlawful wife."

It would have done the legal spouses good to see how fast the House Armed Services Committee corrected that one today.

Somebody said, "I think there is a misprint...." There was a roar of laughter and Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga) intoned: "without objection, the bill is amended to correct...."

The bill, sent to the House floor, would provide civilian health services for service dependents.

Jury Indicts 115 In Bus Boycott

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 21 (AP)—A grand jury indicted 115 persons involved in Montgomery's Negro bus boycott today.

The grand jury warned that violence is inevitable unless race relations improve.

The boycott has been under way 11 weeks in protest to segregated seating on buses, required under Alabama law.

Only 11 indictments were returned, but an official source said 115 defendants were named, several of them on each indictment.

Under state law, names of the defendants and the specific charges against them must be kept secret until the accused persons are in custody.

Thousands of Negroes have refused to ride buses during the boycott.

Sheriff MacButler said no arrests on the indictments will be made until tomorrow.

Gun Blast Wounds Five Young People

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 21 (AP)—Three young men and two girls were wounded today by a shotgun blast fired by a man who said he was annoyed by the repeated blowing of their automobile horn at 2 a.m., outside his home.

Police said John Herschelroth, 58, signed a statement admitting he fired the shot because he was enraged by the instant auto horn. He was charged with assault with intent to kill.

Demos Ridicule Benson And His Farm Program

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson underwent a cross-fire of criticism and ridicule today from hostile House Agriculture Committee members.

Flushing an unaccustomed pink on occasion, Benson heard the administration's farm program called late, nebulous and political.

The secretary, already given a rough time by the Senate Agriculture Committee, was summoned before the House group to outline the administration's farm proposals—including flexible price supports and a "soil bank" for taking surplus cropland out of production.

The House committee last year voted to junk the flexible support system for a return to high rigid price supports. The Senate committee has voted likewise this year.

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) at the outset accused Benson of ignoring the committee in submitting specific proposals, and ordered him to have the program ready in legislative detail "by Monday."

"You've been in office three years and to this day we have never had an official bill," Cooley declared, and in evident sarcasm told Benson to "advise with your attorneys so you won't request authority you already have."

Under Cooley's prodding, Benson acknowledged the soil bank feature of the program is not new, and that the Department of Agriculture had rejected similar proposals contained in two House bills as recently as last July.

Idea Far From New
"You admit it's not new with you," Cooley fired back. "Then why do you come so late?"

Benson agreed the soil bank idea went back to the Biblical days of Joseph in Egypt. He said that his program took the best features of proposals that have been made, and combined them.

Rep. Poage (D-Tex) said the GOP was advertising it as "the Eisenhower-Republican farm program," and remarked that he didn't think Joseph disclosed his party affiliation when he went to get the corn out of the Egyptian granaries.

"He was probably a Republican," Benson retorted mildly.

Aid Call Sent Out By Raft Expedition

PANAMA, Feb. 21 (AP)—The balsam raft "Cantuta" is in trouble near the Galapagos Islands about 1,000 miles southwest of Panama.

Short wave radio dispatches received in Lima and relayed here today said the four men and one woman aboard the raft were running short of food and fuel oil and one of the crew was ill.

The raft is drifting in the Humboldt Current hoping to reach the South Sea Islands. It left Peru early in December.

The messages said the raft, 30 feet long and 12 feet wide, had been caught in a whirlpool for days and was unable to get out. The radio transmitter aboard became wet and the crew had been unable to make contact with anyone for about three weeks.

Senators Set Dulles Policy Quiz Friday

Secretary Returns Today From 2-Week Bahamas Vacation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Democrats agitated over the tank sale to Saudi Arabia and other aspects of U. S. foreign policy today prepared to give Secretary of State Dulles a not-so-warm welcome home from a vacation in the Bahamas.

Sen. George (D-Ga) announced Dulles had agreed tentatively to go before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday.

Other senators reported the meeting would "cover the waterfront" of foreign affairs controversies. This would let Dulles in for a quizzing on at least these issues:

1. Shipment to Saudi Arabia of 18 light tanks with the lifting of a short-lived embargo last week on sending war equipment to the Middle East.

Israeli Arms Demands

2. Israel's expressed shock over the deal and renewed demands for consideration of her appeal for U. S. arms.

3. Complaints of Democrats that the Eisenhower administration has failed to take them into account on key foreign policy decisions.

4. What new strategy may be planned to prevent war in the Middle East and keep peace elsewhere in the world, particularly in light of President Eisenhower's recent conference with British Prime Minister Eden.

5. The administration's foreign aid program, due to be presented to Congress next week.

6. Dulles' "brink of war" interview in Life magazine.

Dulles Vacation At End

Dulles is due in Washington tomorrow from a two-week Bahamas fishing trip.

George, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. is scheduled to accompany Dulles to the session. The meeting itself will be closed, but Dulles has an opportunity to supplement publicly anything disclosed afterward with a speech Sunday.

Worker Rail Lift Thwarts Pickets

FARMINGDALE, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP)—Limited production was resumed at Republic Aviation Corp. today after an unusual rail lift thwarted an angry line of strike pickets.

More than 600 nonstrikers got into the firm's main plant here via Long Island Rail Road trains that make a station stop inside plant property. Republic had suggested the maneuver.

About 100 pickets surged toward the trains beseeching the non-strikers not to go to work. Their spokesman claimed a number heeded the plea.

A Republic spokesman said a trickle of production was resumed for the first time since the International Assn. of Machinists called a wage strike of 12,000 production workers Sunday.

There was renewed fist fighting and scuffling here and at another of Republic's four Long Island plants in Port Washington. Several persons were bruised or bloodied and one picket was hospitalized as some 200 pickets clashed with non-strikers and police.

Seventeen more pickets were arrested at the two plants in morning and evening meetings, bringing to 75 the number arrested in the past two days.

Farm, Union And Industry Lobbyists Top Spenders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Organized lobbyists for farmers, labor unions, the sugar industry and gas and oil interests were the top spenders on legislative activities recorded during the last lobby reporting period.

Their spending, along with that of scores of others required to report to the clerk of the House under the lobby laws, was listed in today's Congressional Record.

The report covers spending "in connection with legislative interests" during the last three months of 1955 except for a few cases covering the preceding three months.

Not all those who reported listed their spending or other financial operations despite regulations requiring such details to be listed.

Gen. Twining Says Russia Threatening U. S. Air Superiority

FLOOD AREA — Map locates Grants Pass, Roseburg and Oakridge in Oregon where earth slides and flood waters, following in the wake of heavy rains, are hitting the area. (AP Photofax)

Floods, Slides Hit Northwest; Three Drown

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 21 (AP)—Heavy rains caused floods that isolated the northern California coastal city of Eureka today and resulted in three drownings in southern Washington.

The deluge also started earth-slides that blocked highways and rail lines over a wide area. Some places got half a foot of rain and more within 24 hours.

Three Men Drown

Two men drowned near Prosser, Wash., when overflow from an irrigation canal trapped them in a discharge tube they were repairing. They were Clifford Hack, 44, Pasco, Wash., and Harold Hack, 39, Kennewick, his brother. Also blamed on weather conditions was the drowning of Ray Hemmer, 34, Chelan, whose snow removal truck fell into Lake Chelan.

Rising flood waters and slides severed all communications with Eureka except radio.

Five families in the Bull Creek area, 45 miles south of Eureka, were evacuated by the Red Cross. Humboldt County streams piled out of their banks again, recalling last December's damaging floods. The El River also was expected to flood.

Seven Inches Of Rain

Two large earthslides in the El River Canyon and several smaller slides blocked the Northwestern Pacific Railroad's tracks in California.

The heaviest rainfall came at Grants Pass, a southern Oregon city of 9,000, where seven inches fell from noon yesterday to noon today. It filled irrigation ditches so full they broke their banks. Dozens of families were evacuated from their homes. Water from a broken storm sewer ran nearly a foot deep through the business district.

Eden's Government Repels Labor Attack

LONDON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Prime Minister Eden's government tonight beat down a strong Labor attack on newly enacted anti-inflationary measures.

On a vote of confidence the House of Commons supported Eden's Conservatives 325-259.

The vote came after a two-day debate on Britain's involved financial position. Both Conservatives and Laborites expressed a desire to protect the pound, now worth $2.80, and to improve the country's trading position in relation to the dollar world. But they disagreed as to the necessary steps.

Soviets Leading In Quantity Of Planes, Gaining In Quality

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining told Congress today the Russians "are narrowing our margin of superiority" in air power. But, he said, the United States is still ahead of the Soviets in the quality of its aerial weapons, including guided missiles.

Twining, the Air Force chief of staff and his civilian boss, Secretary of the Air Force Quarles, described the relative strength of U. S. and Russian air arms at a closed session of the Senate Armed Services Committee. Reporters were given copies of the non-secret aspects of the report.

Symington Aroused

Sen. Symington (D-Mo) said the testimony convinced him the administration was risking the nation's security in order to balance the budget.

A former air secretary under President Truman and a frequent critic of administration air policies, Symington told reporters after the hearing: "Within a short time this country will have lost air superiority to the Communists, as it has already lost superiority on the land and under the sea."

Quarles told the committee the U. S. Air Force is "the most powerful striking force ever assembled on earth."

Russia Leads In Quantity

Twining, in his testimony, said the Russians "have long since passed us in quantity and they are making remarkable strides in quality."

Nevertheless, he said, the United States maintains the lead in top quality combat airpower, defenses and guided missiles.

This nation's biggest advantage, he added, lies in nuclear weapons. But, he said that here, too, the Russians "are making impressive efforts."

The fact is, Twining said, "the Communists can build strength faster than we originally predicted."

Ike's Supporters Sent Stevenson's Funds By Mistake

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (AP)—Thanks to a committee of Eisenhower supporters, $35 intended for Adlai Stevenson's presidential campaign reached the Democratic aspirant today.

The total consisted of a $20 contribution from Durham, N. C., $10 from Bladenboro, N. C., and $5 from Saranac Lake, N. Y.

On Jan. 26 the national Stevenson for President Committee sent out letters soliciting funds in behalf of Stevenson. By mistake a Chicago mailing house enclosed "Salute to Eisenhower" return envelopes with some of the letters.

The contributions were received by the Illinois dinner committee of the Eisenhower fund-raiser, Miss Charlotte Dilling, assistant secretary of the dinner committee, sent the $35 on to the Stevenson group and received a letter of thanks from Barry Bingham, co-chairman of the committee.

Not all those who reported listed their spending or other financial operations despite regulations requiring such details to be listed.

The highest individual expenditure shown was $32,424 listed by the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards for July, August and September of last year. The association was not listed among reporting groups for October, November and December.

Various groups representing organized labor listed an aggregate of $72,416, topped by the American Federation of Labor with $18,570.

Farmers' groups, headed by the American Farm Bureau Federation, listed $27,653, reported spending $47,435.

Sugar interests listed a total of $45,417, while pipe line and gas representatives reported spending about $43,700, topped by $17,263 re-listed by the "committee for Pipe Line Companies."

Red Premier Urges 5-Year Plan Approval

Pledges Collective Party Leadership Will Be Continued

MOSCOW, Feb. 21 (AP)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin told the 20th Communist party Congress today Soviet Union leads other countries in peaceful uses of atomic energy and must keep its lead for the building of communism.

The Premier, formally introducing the sixth Soviet five-year plan, also assured his audience there will be no return to the cult of individualism — such as prevailed in the Stalin era — and that the Soviet Union will continue under a collective party leadership.

He asked approval of the new five-year plan, which calls for big increases in industrial and farm production.

In his 3½-hour address, Bulganin said the era the U.S.S.R. now is facing differs from the prewar era because "no longer is it the case of one Socialist (Communist) country competing with a capitalist world, but that of peaceful economic competition between two world systems—Socialist and capitalist. Nearly half the population of Europe and Asia have definitely and irrevocably broken with capitalism; more than a third of the human race has firmly taken the path of Socialist construction."

He asserted that cooperation among them is contributing to the growth of the Socialist countries and that the Socialist world system is "immune to crises of unemployment and other incurable maladies inherent in the capitalist system."

Capitalist Room "Unstable"

"The increase of production in capitalist countries is due to temporary, transient factors—that is, one-sided, extremely unstable and extending mainly to those branches of industry which in one way or another are connected with militarizing the economy," he told the Congress.

He said the 20th Century is becoming the atomic age and Communists must place this discovery at the service of building communism.

"In the peaceful uses of atomic energy our country is well ahead of other countries," Bulganin declared. "This lead we must keep in the future as well."

Foundation Cites Scouts And VFW

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., Feb. 21 (AP)—Freedoms Foundation today cited the Boy Scouts of America, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Americans for the Competitive Enterprise System for what it said were dynamic, patriotic 1955 programs that promoted and maintained the American way of life.

Additionally, it spotlighted the anti-Communist writings of newspaper columnist and magazine editor David Lawrence, and lauded the dedication to constitutional freedom by the Daughters of the American Revolution, the dramatization of American history by the Du Pont Co., the "exceptional service" to freedom by Kiwanis International, and the "meaningful world-wide teaching program" of the Office of Armed Forces Information and Education.

These "outstanding expressions" of Americanism keyed the seventh annual foundation awards program that honored 923 persons, organizations and schools.

Other awards went to George E. Sokolsky, of King Features Syndicate, and Bob Considine, International News Service reporter and columnist.

Other senators reported the meeting would "cover the water front" of foreign affairs controversies. This would let Dulles in for a quizzing on at least these issues:

1. Shipment to Saudi Arabia of 18 light tanks with the lifting of a short-lived embargo last week on sending war equipment to the Middle East.

2. Israel's expressed shock over the deal and renewed demands for consideration of her appeal for U. S. arms.

3. Complaints of Democrats that the Eisenhower administration has failed to take them into account on key foreign policy decisions.

4. What new strategy may be planned to prevent war in the Middle East and keep peace elsewhere in the world, particularly in light of President Eisenhower's recent conference with British Prime Minister Eden.

5. The administration's foreign aid program, due to be presented to Congress next week.

6. Dulles' "brink of war" interview in Life magazine.

Dulles is due in Washington tomorrow from a two-week Bahamas fishing trip.

George, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. is scheduled to accompany Dulles to the session. The meeting itself will be closed, but Dulles has an opportunity to supplement publicly anything disclosed afterward with a speech Sunday.

Worker Rail Lift Thwarts Pickets

FARMINGDALE, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP)—Limited production was resumed at Republic Aviation Corp. today after an unusual rail lift thwarted an angry line of strike pickets.

More than 600 nonstrikers got into the firm's main plant here via Long Island Rail Road trains that make a station stop inside plant property. Republic had suggested the maneuver.

About 100 pickets surged toward the trains beseeching the non-strikers not to go to work. Their spokesman claimed a number heeded the plea.

A Republic spokesman said a trickle of production was resumed for the first time since the International Assn. of Machinists called a wage strike of 12,000 production workers Sunday.

There was renewed fist fighting and scuffling here and at another of Republic's four Long Island plants in Port Washington. Several persons were bruised or bloodied and one picket was hospitalized as some 200 pickets clashed with non-strikers and police.

Seventeen more pickets were arrested at the two plants in morning and evening melees, bringing to 75 the number arrested in the past two days.

Aid Call Sent Out By Raft Expedition

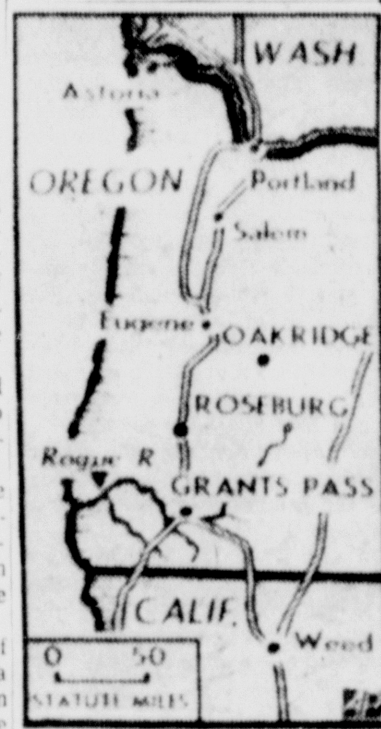

Panama, Feb. 21 (AP)—The balsa raft "Cantuta" is in trouble near the Galapagos Islands about 1,000 miles southwest of Panama.

Short wave radio dispatches received in Lima and relayed here today said the four men and one woman aboard the raft were running short of food and fuel oil and one of the crew was ill.

The raft is drifting in the Humboldt Current hoping to reach the South Sea Islands. It left Peru early in December.

The messages said the raft, 30 feet long and 12 feet wide, had been caught in a whirlpool for days and was unable to get out. The radio transmitter aboard became wet and the crew had been unable to make contact with anyone for about three weeks.

Gen. Twining Says Russia Threatening U. S. Air Superiority

FLOOD AREA — Map locates Grants Pass, Roseburg and Oakridge in Oregon where earth slides and flood waters, following in the wake of heavy rains, are hitting the area. (AP Photofax)

Floods, Slides Hit Northwest; Three Drown

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 21 (AP)—Heavy rains caused floods that isolated the northern California coastal city of Eureka today and resulted in three drownings in southern Washington.

The deluge also started earth slides that blocked highways and rail lines over a wide area. Some places got half a foot of rain and more within 24 hours.

Three Men Drown

Two men drowned near Prosser, Wash., when overflow from an irrigation canal trapped them in a discharge tube they were repairing. They were Clifford Hack, 44, Pasco, Wash., and Harold Hack, 39, Kennewick, his brother. Also blamed on weather conditions was the drowning of Ray Hemmer, 34, Chelan, whose snow removal truck fell into Lake Chelan.

Rising flood waters and slides severed all communications with Eureka except radio.

Five families in the Bull Creek area, 45 miles south of Eureka, were evacuated by the Red Cross. Humboldt County streams piled out of their banks again, recalling last December's damaging floods.

The Eel River also was expected to flood.

Seven Inches Of Rain

Two large earthslides in the Eel River Canyon and several smaller slides blocked the Northwestern Pacific Railroad's tracks in California.

The heaviest rainfall came at Grants Pass, a southern Oregon city of 9,000, where seven inches fell from noon yesterday to noon today. It filled irrigation ditches so full they broke their banks. Dozens of families were evacuated from their homes. Water from a broken storm sewer ran nearly a foot deep through the business district.

Quemoy Raid Alert

TAIPEI, Formosa, Feb. 21 (AP)—An 82-minute air raid alarm was sounded tonight in the island of Quemoy when unidentified planes flew near.

Farm, Union And Industry Lobbyists Top Spenders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Organized lobbyists for farmers, labor unions, the sugar industry and gas and oil interests were the top spenders on legislative activities recorded during the last lobby reporting period.

Their spending, along with that of scores of others required to report to the clerk of the House under the lobby laws, was listed in today's Congressional Record.

The report covers spending "in connection with legislative interests" during the last three months of 1955 except for a few cases covering the preceding three months.

Not all those who reported listed their spending or other financial operations despite regulations requiring such details to be listed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining told Congress today the Russians "are narrowing our margin of superiority" in air power. But, he said, the United States is still ahead of the Soviets in the quality of its aerial weapons, including guided missiles.

Twining, the Air Force chief of staff and his civilian boss, Secretary of the Air Force Quarles, described the relative strength of U. S. and Russian air arms at a closed session of the Senate Armed Services Committee. Reporters were given copies of the non-secret aspects of the report.

Symington Aroused
Sen. Symington (D-Mo) said the testimony convinced him the administration was risking the nation's security in order to balance the budget.

A former air secretary under President Truman and a frequent critic of administration air policies, Symington told reporters after the hearing: "Within a short time this country will have lost air superiority to the Communists, as it has already lost superiority on the land and under the sea."

Quarles told the committee the U. S. Air Force is "the most powerful striking force ever assembled on earth."

Russia Leads In Quantity
Twining, in his testimony, said the Russians "have long since passed us in quantity and they are making remarkable strides in quality."

Nevertheless, he said, the United States maintains the lead in top quality combat airpower, defenses and guided missiles.

This nation's biggest advantage, he added, lies in nuclear weapons. But, he said that here, too, the Russians "are making impressive efforts."

The fact is, Twining said, "the Communists can build strength faster than we originally predicted."

Ike's Supporters
Sent Stevenson's
Funds By Mistake

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (AP)—Thanks to a committee of Eisenhower supporters, $35 intended for Adlai Stevenson's presidential campaign reached the Democratic aspirant today.

The total consisted of a $20 contribution from Durham, N. C., $10 from Bladenboro, N. C., and $5 from Saranac Lake, N. Y.

On Jan. 26 the national Stevenson for President Committee sent out letters soliciting funds in behalf of Stevenson. By mistake a Chicago mailing house enclosed "Salute to Eisenhower" return envelopes with some of the letters.

The contributions were received by the Illinois dinner committee of the Eisenhower fund-raisers, Miss Charlotte Dilling, assistant secretary of the dinner committee, sent the $35 on to the Stevenson group and received a letter of thanks from Barry Bingham, co-chairman of the committee.

Eden's Government
Repels Labor Attack

LONDON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Prime Minister Eden's government tonight beat down a strong Labor attack on newly enacted anti-inflationary measures.

On a vote of confidence the House of Commons supported Eden's Conservatives 325-259.

The vote came after a two-day debate on Britain's involved financial position. Both Conservatives and Laborites expressed a desire to protect the pound, now worth $2.80, and to improve the country's trading position in relation to the dollar world. But they disagreed as to the necessary steps.

Red Premier Urges 5-Year Plan Approval

Pledges Collective Party Leadership
Will Be Continued

MOSCOW, Feb. 21 (AP)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin told the 20th Communist party Congress today Soviet Union leads other countries in peaceful uses of atomic energy and must keep its lead for the building of communism.

The Premier, formally introducing the sixth Soviet five-year plan, also assured his audience there will be no return to the cult of individualism — such as prevailed in the Stalin era — and that the Soviet Union will continue under a collective party leadership.

He asked approval of the new five-year plan, which calls for big increases in industrial and farm production.

3 1/2-Hour Address

In his 3 1/2-hour speech, Bulganin said the era the U.S.S.R. now is facing differs from the prewar era because "no longer is it the case of one Socialist (Communist) country competing with a capitalist world, but that of peaceful economic competition between two world systems—Socialist and capitalist. Nearly half the population of Europe and Asia have definitely and irrevocably broken with capitalism; more than a third of the human race has firmly taken the path of Socialist construction."

He asserted that cooperation among them is the growth of the Socialist countries and that the Socialist world system is "immune to crises of unemployment and other incurable maladies inherent in the capitalist system."

Capitalist Room "Unstable"

"The increase of production in capitalist countries is due to temporary, transient factors—that is, one-sided, extremely unstable and extending mainly to those branches of industry which in one way or another are connected with militarizing the economy," he told the Congress.

He said the 20th Century is becoming the atomic age and Communists must place this discovery at the service of building communism.

"In the peaceful uses of atomic energy our country is well ahead of other countries," Bulganin declared. "This lead we must keep in the future as well."

Foundation Cites Scouts And VFW

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., Feb. 21 (AP)—Freedom's Foundation today cited the Boy Scouts of America, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Americans for the Competitive Enterprise System for what it said were dynamic, patriotic 1955 programs that promoted and maintained the American way of life.

Additionally, it spotlighted the anti-Communist writings of newspaper columnist and magazine editor David Lawrence, and lauded the dedication to constitutional freedom by the Daughters of the American Revolution, the dramatization of American history by the Du Pont Co., the "exceptional freedom" to freedom by Kiwanis International, and the "meaningful world-wide teaching program" of the Office of Armed Forces Information and Education.

These "outstanding expressions" of Americanism keynoted the seventh annual foundation awards program that honored 923 persons, organizations and schools.

Other awards went to George E. Sokolsky, of King Features Syndicate, and Bob Considine, International News Service reporter and columnist.

VFW Blasts Parole Of Ex-Nazi Officer

Goebell Convicted In Murder Of Captive Fliers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (P)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars branded as "utterly fantastic and unbelievable" the parole today of a former German naval captain who was convicted of helping to kill seven captured U.S. airmen during World War II.

Timothy J. Murphy of Boston, VFW commander-in-chief, said he will ask the State Department for an immediate explanation. He said the VFW will "use every weapon at its command to see that such flagrant examples of disregard for America's war dead come to an immediate halt."

The German, Kurt Goebell, 59, was sentenced to death by a U.S. military government court at Ludwigsburg in March, 1946. The sentence was commuted to life in 1948 and reduced to 32 years in 1954.

The release of Goebell left 33 prisoners in the U.S. war crimes prison at Landsberg, Germany.

Murphy's statement commented that for the German to attain freedom it was necessary for him to receive the unanimous approval of

Accuracy, Not Range, Missile Problem No. 1

REDSTONE ARMY ARSENAL, Ala., Feb. 21 (P)—Range of almost any distance desired is no longer a problem for the designers of America's ballistic missiles.

Only the matter of accuracy at long range—across a continent or across an ocean—continues to wrinkle the brows of the military scientists who devise the high flying and super-swift projectiles armed with nuclear devastation.

And in the comparatively "modest" ranges of several hundred miles even the accuracy problem seems about solved.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, chief of the new Army Ballistic Missile Agency was asked today by visiting newsmen if the Redstone missile, unofficially estimated to have a range of between 200 and 300 miles is accurate.

"Very," said Medaris.

Then at another point the general said, to another question about range for intermediate—1,500 mile and intercontinental—5,000 mile rockets:

"There is no trick to flinging a missile to damn near any distance you want to. The trick is to keep it (its aiming circle) within the size of a Texas county."

Here, whether intended or not, may have been an answer to claims that Russia has fired an intermediate range ballistic missile almost a thousand miles. The question is the "circle of error"—if the test missile had been equipped with a hydrogen warhead would it have been accurate enough to destroy the target?

Here at this Army missile center there was no claim or no evidence that the Army already possesses a workable IRBM.

On the other hand, there was evidence and testimony that the first, long step toward a 1,500-mile rocket has been achieved in the form of the Redstone 300-mile missile.

Foes Threaten Adenauer Grip On Parliament

BONN, Germany, Feb. 21 (P)—Fresh challenges to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's pro-Western policy stretched ahead today in a series of state tests that threaten his grip on Parliament.

Baden-Wuerttemberg is going to the polls March 4.

The aloof old man—more aloof than ever since he returned to work three months ago after a long siege of bronchial pneumonia—is on the defensive in a bitter struggle for political power.

Proof of its gravity came yesterday in the ouster of one of Adenauer's chief lieutenants, Karl Arnold, as premier of the Bonn Republic's richest state, North Rhine-Westphalia.

The Rightist Free Democrats—FDP, partners in his national coalition, teamed with the anti-NATO Socialists in the North Rhine-Westphalia Legislature to unseat Arnold on a confidence motion, 102-96. Socialist Fritz Steinhoff replaced Arnold.

Adenauer threatened the rebellious FDP with ouster from the national government. He said his Christian Democrats, the dominant partners, will examine the "impossible situation" Friday.

The Arnold case cost Adenauer his absolute two-thirds majority in the Bundesrat, the upper House of Parliament. His supporters had held 26 of the 38 seats. North Rhine-Westphalia's five seats now go to the opposition. However, Bavaria's five opposition senators are pledged to support Adenauer on foreign policy and defense matters.

A dispatch from Hannover indicated a case similar to North Rhine-Westphalia might be developing in Lower Saxony. Lower Saxony's five votes in the Bundesrat now go to Adenauer.

Transit Union Would Arbitrate

BALTIMORE, Feb. 21 (P)—The head of Baltimore's striking transit workers union offered again today to end the walkout "if we can put the issues before an arbitrator whose decisions will be final and binding on both parties."

This was not a new proposal. The union has made it before as have numerous officials and civic and business leaders.

Frank Baummer, president of the 2,000 striking members of the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees, made the statement at a 2-hour session called by Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro in an effort to get union and the Baltimore Transit Co. negotiators negotiating again.

Baummer's statement was touched off by a statement yesterday from the BTC board of directors refusing to accept an arbitration plan put forth by three major Baltimore business groups.

Since the end of World War II bond drives in 1945, Series E Savings Bonds holdings of Americans have increased by more than $6½ billion.

Adenauer threatened the rebellious FDP with ouster from the national government. He said his Christian Democrats, the dominant partners, will examine the "impossible situation" Friday.

The Arnold case cost Adenauer his absolute two-thirds majority in the Bundesrat, the upper House of Parliament. His supporters had held 26 of the 38 seats. Publisher Held In Contempt, Jailed

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 21 (P)—Laredo Times publisher William Prescott Allen went to jail for contempt tonight although he promised to answer all questions a grand jury may ask him.

He refused to eat the evening jail meal, but would not explain why.

Presumably he will remain in jail until about 9 a.m. tomorrow when the grand jury meets again.

The publisher was held in contempt of court, fined $100 and ordered to jail because he refused to tell the jury the sources of information contained in articles stating gambling existed in Fort Worth and payoffs were being made.

Lu Ann's Night Club Contract Cancelled

DETROIT, Feb. 21 (P)—Singer Lu Ann Simms, who opened Feb. 13 what was scheduled as a two-week appearance at the Statler Hotel, was released from her contract by agreement Saturday, a hotel spokesman said today.

The spokesman said Miss Simms' act "didn't go over in a night club."

The singer and her manager-husband, Loring Buzzell, blamed her troubles on the orchestra.

Miss Simms was formerly a member of the Arthur Godfrey show.

VFW Blasts Parole Of Ex-Nazi Officer

Goebell Convicted In Murder Of Captive Fliers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars branded as "utterly fantastic and unbelievable" the parole today of a former German naval captain who was convicted of helping 11 U.S. airmen during World War II.

The release of Goebell left 33 prisoners in the U.S. war crimes prison at Landsberg, Germany.

Murphy's statement commented that for the German to attain freedom it was necessary for him to receive the unanimous approval of a six-man Allied commission. It includes one American, Robert W. Upton, a lawyer and onetime U.S. senator from New Hampshire.

The VFW and other veterans groups protested strongly last fall when the board freed former S.S. Elite Corps Gen. Sepp Dietrich, who had been convicted for his part in the Malmédy massacre of American soldiers.

Shortly afterward, U.S. diplomat Edwin A. Plitt was replaced on the board by Upton. The State Department announcement of the change took no notice of the demands for Plitt's firing.

The department said Upton is a private citizen, whereas Plitt is a U.S. Foreign Service officer. It added that having an American on the board, with no other connections with the U.S. government, "will remove any misunderstanding of the board's position and that of its members."

The board is a quasi-judicial body handling clemency appeals for convicted war criminals. Its members are not subject to any instructions from their governments.

Twins Indicted In Boy's Slaying

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 21 (AP)—Teen-age twin brothers were indicted by the grand jury today for the brutal slaying of a nine-year-old Cub Scout, who was out selling tickets for a scout benefit.

The identical twins, 14-year-old Joseph and Thomas Williams, Jr., were arrested on Feb. 11, the day after David Powell's body was found in a part of the Williams' cellar sometimes used as a boys' hideout.

The child was reported missing on Feb. 9 after he failed to return from canvassing homes in the area with tickets to a cub pack show. His body was found the next day by a relative, who was part of a searching party.

His head was crushed. A blood-stained two-by-four and a bloody hammer lay beside him.

The twins have maintained their innocence. They have been in custody in an unused part of the women's ward in the county jail.

Prosecutor Joseph A. Gompers said earlier that robbery was the "probable motive," adding that some money should have been in David's pockets. There was none, he said.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 21 (AP)—The head of Baltimore's striking transit workers union offered again today to end the walkout "if we can put the issues before an arbitrator whose decisions will be final and binding on both parties."

This was not a new proposal. The union has made it before as have numerous officials and civic and business leaders.

Frank Baummer, president of the 2,000 striking members of the Amalgamated Assn. of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees, made the statement at a 2-hour session called by Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro in an effort to get union and the Baltimore Transit Co. negotiators negotiating again.

Baummer's statement was touched off by a statement yesterday from the BTC board of directors refusing to accept an arbitration plan put forth by three major Baltimore business groups.

Since the end of World War II bond drives in 1945, Series E Savings Bond holdings of Americans have increased by more than $6½ billion.

Foes Threaten Adenauer Grip On Parliament

BONN, Germany, Feb. 21 (AP)—Fresh challenges to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's pro-Western policy stretched ahead today in a series of state tests that threaten his grip on Parliament.

Baden-Wuerttemberg is going to the polls March 4.

The aloof old man—more aloof than ever since he returned to work three months ago after a long siege of bronchial pneumonia—is on the defensive in a bitter struggle for political power.

Proof of its gravity came yesterday in the ouster of one of Adenauer's chief lieutenants, Karl Arnold, as premier of the Bonn Republic's richest state, North Rhine-Westphalia.

The Rightist Free Democrats—FDP, partners in his national coalition, teamed with the anti-NATO Socialists in the North Rhine-Westphalia Legislature to unseat Arnold on a confidence motion, 102-96. Socialist Fritz Steinhoff replaced Arnold.

Adenauer threatened the rebellious FDP with ouster from the national government. He said his Christian Democrats, the dominant partners, will examine the "impossible situation" Friday.

The Arnold case cost Adenauer his absolute two-thirds majority in the Bundesrat, the upper House of Parliament. His supporters had held 26 of the 38 seats. North Rhine-Westphalia's five seats now go to the opposition. However, Bavaria's five opposition senators are pledged to support Adenauer on foreign policy and defense matters.

A dispatch from Hannover indicated a case similar to North Rhine-Westphalia might be developing in Lower Saxony. Lower Saxony's five votes in the Bundesrat now go to Adenauer.

Ike Pays Tribute To His Former Teacher

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Feb. 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower paid phrase "They care." warm tribute tonight to Miss Adeline B. Over of Abilene, Kan., his "beloved teacher" of more than 50 years ago.

In a message, the President hailed his 83-year-old former teacher and others like her as members.

News Editors Believe Race Relations Have Worsened Since Desegregation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Most of 15 newspaper editors interviewed on the segregation issue believe relations between white persons and Negroes in the South have worsened since the Supreme Court ordered an end to separate public schools for the two races.

Some of the editors—who come from the Deep South, border states and Texas—voiced fear of bloodshed stemming from the integration move. There is marked difference of opinion whether the high court action has slowed or hastened progress toward equality of educational opportunity for Negro pupils.

The copyrighted interview in U.S. News and World Report, an independent weekly news magazine, includes a statement by a Negro editor, Percy Greene of the Jackson, Miss., Advocate, that relations between the races are "infinitely worse" than before the 1953 decision.

In similar vein a white newspaper publisher, Buford Boone of the Tuscaloosa News, says his community "was almost an eyewink away from murder" in the rioting that developed over admission of a Negro girl to the University of Alabama.

"The mob on the University of Alabama campus would have killed this girl if they could have gotten their hands on her," Boone says.

And Frederick Sullens, editor of the Jackson, Miss., News, predicts: "Violence will inevitably follow any hasty movement to force Negroes into the white schools of Mississippi."

Others expressing the view that race relations have worsened included editor Grover C. Hall Jr., of the Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser; James G. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville, Tenn., Banner; Thomas Waring, editor of the Charleston, S.C., News and Courier; Hodding Carter, editor of the Delta Democrat-Times at Greenville, Miss.; and Virginius Dabney, editor of the Richmond, Va., Times-Dispatch editorial page.

Estimates vary widely as to when, if ever, integration will be accomplished in the South. C.P. Litter, executive editor of the Baton Rouge, La., Advocate and State Times, says he would be surprised to see it in his lifetime.

Mark F. Ethridge, publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal, says he believes it could be achieved in 10 years.

C. A. McKnight, editor of the Charlotte, N.C., Observer, offers the opinion that integration will spread gradually in the South but "There are some sections that are simply not going to desegregate their schools even at the point of a bayonet."

E. B. Braswell, editor of the Athens, Ga., Banner-Herald, is one of those asserting progress toward equality of educational opportunity has not been hampered by the Supreme Court ruling.

Similarly, editor John M. Tapers of the Tallahassee, Fla., Democrat, says his state's "excellent start" in that direction has not been affected. Tapers says, however, "You can look for trouble" if attempts are made to enforce integration in the immediate future.

In the southwest, says editor Charles E. Green of the Austin, Tex., American-Statesmen, people are taking the integration move "pretty much in stride." He adds, however: "I think if the enforcement is too rapid it could set things back."

C. A. Scott, editor of the Atlanta, Ga., World and one of the two Negroes among those interviewed, says he believes most people would accept integration if they were not stirred up by authorities "for political, selfish reasons."

Yalu River Line Not Worth Cost, Ridgway Says

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway says he is confident his 8th Army in Korea could have driven the Chinese Reds beyond the Yalu River in 1951 "if this country had been willing to pay the price in lives."

"I strongly doubt that such a victory would have been worth the cost," Ridgway adds, "particularly in light of the fact that our government seemed to have no firm policy on what steps to take thereafter."

"Seizure of the line of the Yalu and the Tumens would have been merely the seizure of more real estate."

Writing the last of a series of articles in the Saturday Evening Post, the former Army chief of staff gives this summation of what the military picture would have been had the 8th Army driven to the Yalu after the Chinese Reds entered the fighting:

"It would have greatly shortened the enemy's supply lines and greatly lengthened our own. It would have widened our front from 110 miles to 420, and beyond that front would lie Manchuria and the whole mainland of Asia, in which all the wealth and manpower of this country could have been lost and dissipated."

Ridgway says he did not take part in the discussions leading to acceptance of the Korean truce but "in retrospect I do not feel constrained to quarrel with that decision."

Before 1890, the United States Congress sat in eight cities—Philadelphia, Baltimore, Lancaster, York, Princeton, Annapolis, Trenton and New York.

Monaco To Mark Wedding With Music, Parade, Ballet

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, Feb. 21 (AP)—Monaco plans to stage a special ballet, torchlight parade and fireworks to celebrate Prince Rainier's marriage to Grace Kelly.

A committee arranging details of the April wedding festivities has forwarded its ideas to Hollywood for the Prince's approval. Rainier is expected to return late next month to oversee final arrangements.

Three days of gaiety are in the works for the little principality, on April 17, 18 and 19. The civil and religious wedding ceremonies are to be held the last two days. After that, the Prince and his new princess will sail away on their yacht for a Mediterranean honeymoon.

Miss Kelly and members of her family will be lodged in the Royal Palace when they arrive, sometime between April 10 and 15.

Pope Pius XII may send a special envoy to perform the religious ceremony. If so, he too will be housed in the palace.

Friends of the Kelly family will be put up at the Hermitage Hotel where some 50 rooms have been reserved.

This is the tentative schedule for the festivities:

April 17—during the day a reception will be held at the palace for the foreign communities in Monaco. The guests will be presented to Miss Kelly.

In the evening every orchestra and band in Monaco will parade at the palace to serenade the couple. Following this, an open air ballet program will be performed in the palace square. Afterwards the public will form a torchlight parade back into the city, while a fireworks exhibition is set off.

April 18—The civil marriage will be held in the throne room of the palace. Marcel Portanier, director of legal services for the principality and president of the state council, will officiate. Since the throne room is small, only 80 guests will be permitted inside, including five reporters, two still photographers and three movie cameramen.

In the afternoon, the Prince and Princess will play hosts to their subjects at a garden party. Only the 4,000 Monacan citizens will be invited. In the evening, a musical and ballet party will be held at the Monte Carlo Opera House for favored guests. The public will celebrate with street dances.

April 19—The religious ceremony will be held at 10:30 a. m. in Monaco Cathedral. It still is not known who will officiate, although a special papal legate has been mentioned. At 1 p. m. a wedding luncheon for important guests will be given at the palace. In the afternoon, a variety show will be open to the public in the Louis II Stadium.

It was only in 1931 that Congress made The Star Spangled Banner the national anthem of the United States.

Overpayment Of Jobless Benefits Costly To State

BALTIMORE, Feb. 21 (AP)—Maryland is still out more than half a million dollars in unemployment benefits, most of which went to persons who deliberately misrepresented their employment status, a report to the governor said today.

The State Department of Employment Security said $533,122 in overpayments was listed as uncovered by the end of the last fiscal year.

It said an additional $111,481 was recovered.

The report showed that fraud on the part of employees filing for benefits was responsible for $350,000 in improper payments.

Stringent measures have been taken to tighten controls on compensation benefits, the ESB said.

"The present board recognizes the need for reorganization of the procedures established for the prevention and detection of overpayments and is taking steps to correct the inadequacies of the program as soon as possible," the report said.

Overpayments were the subject of part of the report of Joseph

Pa. House Votes For Income Tax And Sales Levy

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 21 (AP)—The State House of Representatives today passed both a 2 per cent personal income tax and a 2 per cent sales tax on a group of selected items, mostly durable goods and luxuries.

The vote on the net income tax was 110-88, on the sales tax 122-72.

It requires 106 votes to pass a bill in the House. The action sent both measures to the Senate.

The income tax was the Democratic part of a bipartisan sales-income tax package estimated to raise $60 million dollars.

The levy would be computed on net income after deductions and exemptions allowed by the federal income tax law.

Two Republican bills in the compromise program would impose a 2 per cent sales tax on a group of durable goods and luxuries and 2 per cent gross receipts tax on hotels, motels, restaurants and clubs.

It requires 106 votes to pass a bill in the House. The income tax received four more votes than needed.

Navy Jet Crashes Into Chesapeake Bay

EASTON, Md., Feb. 21 (AP)—A Navy jet fighter crashed today into shallow water in a Chesapeake Bay inlet near Bozman, Talbot County, exploding apparently on impact.

The plane was believed to be one overdue at Chincoteague (Va.) Naval Air Station.

Searchers reported finding parts of a body 100 feet off shore. The plane fragments were scattered over a wide area.

The Navy identified the plane as a F9F. It said the pilot was not in radio contact with any base immediately before crashing near a group of oyster tonging boats.

Va. Firm Low Bidder On Highway Project

BALTIMORE, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Lynchburg, Va., firm of Burkholder & Burkholder entered the apparent low bid today on construction of nearly a mile of the Baltimore-Harrisburg Expressway in Baltimore County.

The Virginia firm's bid on the 0.934 mile project was $620,575.35. Seven firms bid on the job, and the bids ran as high as $931,562.52.

The project calls for grading, draining and paving a section of the expressway from a point 0.5 mile south of Bunker Hill Road north toward Gunpowder Falls.

It also includes grading, draining and paving a section of U.S. 11, the present York Road, from a point 0.4 mile south of Bunker Hill Road northward 1.254 miles.

Hit-Run Driver Captured By Cop

YORK, Pa., Feb. 21 (AP)—A York policeman overpowered a man involved in an automobile accident today after the man tried to escape by running through several homes in the west end of York.

The policeman and the man tussled for possession of the officer's pistol. Both were injured in the encounter.

Martin Luther Warner, 28, Daltown, was taken to York Hospital with two pistol wounds in his left leg and lacerations of his abdomen. His condition was described as satisfactory.

The policeman, Pete J. Chantiles, 38, also was taken to the hospital with lacerations of the head and face. He was due to be discharged later in the day.

Chantiles gave this account of the encounter with Warner:

After Warner's car collided with another automobile, the man jumped from the car and ran through three yards and homes in the area.

Chantiles caught up with him in the home of Mrs. Lucille Bentzel. As Chantiles reached for his pistol, Warner grabbed the weapon and hit the officer on the head with it.

Chantiles regained possession of the pistol and fired three times, two bullets wounding Warner in the leg.

Teen-Agers Steal Variety Of Items

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 21 (AP)—Police were puzzled today by the nature of loot they said four teen-agers admitted stealing in various parts of the town and county.

The group, three boys about 17 and a girl about 16, told officers they took an assortment ranging from auto accessories to canned food. Most of the loot was recovered, police said.

Police said the items included a radio, stove, electric mixer, tools, gasoline, telephone receivers and car lights, radios and hub caps.

The four were released in the custody of their parents pending a hearing in Juvenile Court. They were not identified.

Kraft Paper Price Hike

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—West Virginia Pulp & Paper Co. today announced a number of price increases in natural Kraft paper, effective April 1.

The product is used principally for making bag, converting, asphalt and wax papers.

On 60-pound Kraft, the rise is $5 a ton or about three per cent over present levels. Increases on Kraft paper of 50-pound or less weight run as much as $10 a ton, which amounts to an average of about six per cent.

U. S. Films Hit Abroad

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Foreigners continue to like American flickers. The Commerce Department said today the motion picture industry exported nearly 370 million feet of feature films last year, an all time high.

No matter how stylish your chignon cap, or, well-groomed your hair, if dandruff falls on your shoulders, the whole effect is lost.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The Cure For Dandruff

Nothing de-thrones you so quickly, beauty queens, as the tell-tale signs of dandruff. No one likes to see it, and it robs you of any chances of being well groomed. Dandruff is not just a social handicap. It is a handicap, true. But there's a lot more to it. It's a danger signal that you have an infection.

If it is not taken care of immediately, dandruff eruptions of the scalp can spread and travel to the ears, face, neck, chest, arms, and shoulders. Many women have found the cause of a complexion problem originating in the scalp.

Recently I heard of a new product that the enthusiastic manufacturer says will not only relieve dandruff but will control it. Safe and very simple to apply, he recommends that it be used by the entire family. The manufacturer who developed this product became so enthusiastic and impressed with the results that he established a whole new pharmaceutical division in his plant to produce it. Reports show that this new formula is 97.3 per cent effective in relieving dandruff conditions.

You moisten the scalp, apply the product and leave it on... a clear and invisible liquid, it doesn't have to be shampooed out. It contains ingredients that guard against future growth of bacteria and works against further dandruff infection.

It was tested on persons with itching scalp, scaling, flaking dandruff eruptions on the scalp as well as rashes on the body.

But, as I always advise, if you have the slightest doubt about the health of your scalp, or, if it's widely affected and irritated, consult your doctor.

"An auto insurance policy is a Promise

...as good as the company behind it!"

GENERAL ROBERT E. WOOD, former Chairman of the Board, Sears, Roebuck and Company and founder of the Allstate Insurance Company

"TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO I stood before the Sears, Roebuck and Co. Board of Directors and enthusiastically recommended the founding of the Allstate Insurance Company. I was convinced we could give the car owner a better value for his auto insurance dollar. But just as important, I was confident we could set a new high standard for claim settlements.

"After all, an auto insurance policy is a promise to protect you against certain financial losses in the event of an auto accident. Like any promise, it is only as good as the company behind it. We were determined to treat each claim with the same absolute fairness that had made Sears one of the most trusted names in American business by promptly paying a dollar for every dollar due.

"By following this philosophy of fair play, Allstate has risen to world auto insurance leadership in just 25 years. Over 3,250,000 policyholders say much better than I can that 'you can be sure you're in good hands with Allstate'."

We're proud of this record!

As Allstate celebrates its silver anniversary, we point with pride to the high percentage of policyholders who continue with us year after year. This fact alone is convincing evidence that Allstate is living up to the standard of fast, fair claim settlements set when the company was founded.

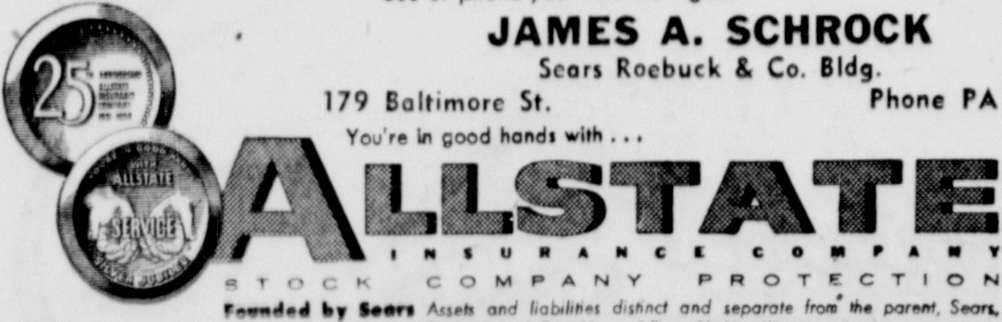

Allstate has also kept its promise to deliver a better auto insurance value. Over the past 25 years, car owners have saved millions of dollars with Allstate. You just can't buy better auto insurance, why pay more?

HONORED BY PHI OMICRON DELTA—Following the formal initiation ceremony Monday night at the college, Phi Omicron Delta held its annual banquet for the new members last evening at the Cumberland Country Club.

BPW Plans Fun Night March 6

Miss Gerardine Pritchard was elected on the state nominating committee and plans were made for a Fun Night at the meeting of the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club last night at the YMCA.

The committee will meet in conjunction with the state board March 3 at the Uplands Community hall, Baltimore. Attending the board meeting will be Miss Orpha Bonita Pritchard, state program coordinator; Miss Anna Nicht, state parliamentarian; Mrs. Thelma Swartzwelder, state finance chairman; and Miss Helen Beck, local club president.

Fun Night will be held following the regular meeting March 6. It will be for the benefit of the National Security committee program.

"Windows on the World," a BPW miniature told the story of the International Federation of BPW. It featured three Fort Hill students, furnishing the musical background with Brenda Waite at the piano. David McCullough sang "Abide

College Night Is Being Sponsored By AAUW

A film favoring a liberal arts curriculum is the feature of the College Night being held under the sponsorship of the Education Group of Cumberland Branch American Association of University Women, tonight and last night.

Tonight at 7 o'clock College Night will be observed at Fort Hill High School. It was held at Allegany High School last night.

Members of the branch meet informally with the students to help them with their college planning. Pertinent literature will be available for inspection.

The project chairman is Mrs. Robert Little Ebert, with Mrs. Walter Rissler, Mrs. Milton Grannet, Mrs. William Van Newkirk and Mrs. A. W. Resser.

with Me" and "No Man Is an Island," James Diehl played "Arioso," by Bach, on the violin. Speaking roles were by Mrs. Elizabeth Sewell, Miss Mary Jo Logsdon, Miss Orpha Bonita Pritchard, Mrs. Kathleen Burke, Mrs. Clarabel Kaldor, Mrs. Effie Parsons, Miss Nan Livingston and Mrs. Marian Heiskell.

Stressing the origin of miniature means red, the group wore black dresses with red carnations. The motif was also used in the background window, designed by Miss Orpha Bonita Pritchard, and done by Donna Robertson, Fort Hill student, with Thomas Murphy, teacher. It was repeated on the programs. Miss Gerardine Pritchard was chairman in staging the program. Mrs. Martha Hamilton, Mrs. Ellen McKenzie and Miss Betsy Ross Rankin in charge of table decorations, using forsythia to carry out the green and gold, international colors.

Potentate's Ball Planned March 3

The annual Potentate's Ball of Ali Ghan Temple will be held Saturday, March 3, at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, according to Charles U. Wiebel, recorder.

The event will honor John Brennaman, this city, who was elected illustrious potentate of the temple last month, and members of his divan.

The ball will open with a dinner meeting at 6:30 p. m., followed by a reception at 8:30 p. m. and a dance at 9 p. m.

Widows of nobles are invited to attend.

Planned Friday at 9 p. m. is a dance sponsored by Ali Ghan Temple Band, also at the Country Club. Refreshments will be served.

Mr., Mrs. Henry Valentine Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Valentine were honored by their children at an informal open house last evening in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary.

The former Miss Mary Wrightson, daughter of the late William and Laura Wrightson, Cumberland, became the bride of Henry Valentine, son of the late William and Elizabeth Valentine, also of Cumberland, February 21, 1906. The ceremony was solemnized in the parsonage of Kingsley Methodist Church with Rev. Gallegher officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Valentine are the parents of 10 children, all living. They are Floyd, Ralph, James Charles, William, Robert, Donald, Mrs. Ethel Starliper, Mrs. Betty Stottlymer, all of Cumberland; and Mrs. Dorothy Roach, Baltimore. They have seven grandchildren and two step-grandchildren.

The party was held at their home, 322 Reservoir Avenue, with the golden motif carried out in the decorations.

A foreman of the freight house of the Western Maryland Railway Company, Mr. Valentine retired about two years ago. He is a member of the Cumberland Aerie 245, Eagles.

Active in church work, Mrs. Valentine is a member of the Melvin Methodist Church Women's Society of Christian Service, and of the VFW Auxiliary.

New members include Miss Amelia Diehl, Cumberland; Miss Dorothy McBride, Middletown; Miss Hagerstown; Miss Luttrell, Miss Sabra Hast, Cumberland; Miss Susan Eader, Frederick; and Miss Shirley Johnson, Hagerstown, all freshmen at the college.

Two new members from the Junior Class are Miss Sally Bland, Luke; and Miss Joanne Herbert, Westernport.

Faculty guests, in addition to Dr. Briggs, were Mrs. Howard Tolson, Dr. Lucile N. Clay, advisors to the sorority, and Miss Dorothy Stone White.

Rush week activities, preceding the banquet, included pledging, a party and talent show, and informal initiation. The formal initiation ceremony was held Monday evening.

Cub Pack 30 To Receive Merit Awards At Dinner

Merit awards will be presented by Reford Aldridge, pack master, at the covered dish dinner being held for Cub Scout Pack 30, Frostburg, and their families, sponsored by the Laboratory school.

The dinner will be held at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening at Salem Reformed Church. Earl Richardson is Pack committee chairman.

DeMolay Mothers Club will meet at 8 tonight at the Masonic Temple.

Civic Club Welfare Group To Aid Co. Patients

The Welfare Group of the Woman's Civic Club planned two projects at the meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lee Fresh, The Dingle. Mrs. John S. Cook presided at the business session, when it was decided to purchase comfortable chairs for the men's sun room at the county home.

Members will meet March 21 at the home of Mrs. Nellie Wilson Footer, 405 Washington Street, to make favors for the women patients at the infirmary and county home.

Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Max Spear, Mrs. Winnie Harper and Mrs. Clifton White volunteered to go to the county home Friday from 2 until 4 o'clock, to hold services and visit the patients. Routine reports were given of the visits and treats taken to the home, infirmary and Sylvan Retreat.

A report of 1,000 stamps sent to the veterans hospital was given by Mrs. Louis Lippold, who asked for additional stamps for another box. Flowers were sent to Mrs. Frances Cavanaugh and Mrs. William C. Thompson, members who are ill. A letter of appreciation from the Maryland Association of Mental Health, Baltimore for a Christmas treat, was read. It stated the 7,108 mental patients received 68,000 gifts.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. G. Morgan Smith and Mrs. Cook presiding at the tea table.

The committee also included Mrs. G. Frank Malin, Mrs. Ira Vandegrift, Mrs. Fresh and Mrs. Cook. The aircraft industry in the United States is served by 60,000 subcontractors and suppliers.

Heaven, Great Mystery, Remains As Star Of Faith

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—What is heaven like? It remains the great mystery. But some churchmen think there's now a broader—and perhaps more perceptive—approach to the clues available.

"Generally today there's a greater recognition of the significance of the symbols we have," said Dr. Norman Pittenger of General Theological Seminary.

"So many people used to get bogged down on the precise symbols and lose out on the idea they were intended to convey—on externals rather than their meaning."

Rarely do clergymen try to map a geography for heaven any more or list its furnishings, and they hear no distant sounds of strumming harps or dancing golden slippers as popularized in folk lore.

But heaven remains, as ever, the bright, beckoning star of faith. "It is the goal to which man's whole existence is directed," Dr. Pittenger said.

"It is our chief end," said Dr. F. Epling Reinartz of the United Lutheran Church. "It is when man's earthly thrust toward God becomes his natural state."

But in heralding it, ministers widely shun a practice more common among some preachers in the past of offering concrete previews of heaven, sometimes including dimensions, street patterns and terrain.

"People used to think in simpler terms," said the Rev. John Mellin of the First Presbyterian Church here. "This was true not only in religion but in everything—economics, physics, the concepts of the universe."

"The world itself seemed simpler," Dr. Abraham Heschel of Jewish Theological Seminary said in the infiltration of pagan notions caused some past efforts to make the "abstract into the concrete, the spiritual into the corporeal, the sublime into the tangible."

Yet without precise specifications, heaven commands a yearning apart from all the razzle-dazzle of civilization's newest devices, comforts and mental delights arrayed in their halo of advertising.

As measured by a Catholic Digest survey, 72 per cent of Americans believe a heavenly life awaits. (This compares with only 58 per cent who accept the existence of an eternal hell.)

This hope of heaven, so far as present-day church emphasis goes, is far removed from ordinary earthly attractions. Clergymen generally have eschewed any tendency to reduce heaven to a sensual level.

"We try to avoid emphasizing the physical enticements," said Msgr. Charles Walsh of the Roman Catholic Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

"We know that all desires and instincts in nature will be fully and completely satisfied, but we also know this isn't all there is to the infinite and varied joys of participation in the inner life of God."

Generally, the major faiths all accept the idea that heaven will involve "living in the presence of God"—a sort of graduation of man into new God-like potentialities by which he shares the essence of the Divinity.

This is sometimes called the "beatific vision"—in which man's eyes finally are opened to the wonders of God, the universe and man's part in it.

Auto-Bus Smashup Claims Fifth Victim

STAFFORD, Va., Feb. 21 (AP)—Sunday's four-fatality auto-bus crash on U.S. 1 near here claimed its fifth victim yesterday.

William J. Axelson, 22, of Duluth, Minn., a Ft. Belvoir, Va., soldier, died in the hospital at the Quantico Marine Corps School.

Axelson was admitted to the hospital Sunday with critical injuries suffered when the car in which he and four other Ft. Belvoir soldiers were riding smashed head-long into a southbound Trailways bus. All of the 18 dozing bus passengers escaped serious injury.

300-Pound Woman, Scalded In Tub, Dies

CHICAGO, Feb. 20 (AP)—A 300-pound woman died yesterday of burns suffered in a bathtub from which she could not free herself because of her weight.

She was Mrs. Blanche Daniels, 51, who was scalded over much of her body Sunday.

Police reported a neighbor heard her screaming in her bathroom, rushed in and turned off the steaming water. Mrs. Daniels was unable to climb from the tub and the neighbor was unable to lift her out.

Auto-Bus Smashup Claims Fifth Victim

STAFFORD, Va., Feb. 21 (AP)—Sunday's four-fatality auto-bus crash on U.S. 1 near here claimed its fifth victim yesterday.

William J. Axelson, 221 of Duluth, Minn., a Ft. Belvoir, Va., soldier, died in the hospital at the Quantico Marine Corps School.

Axelson was admitted to the hospital Sunday with critical injuries suffered when the car in which he and four other Ft. Belvoir soldiers were riding smashed head-long into a southbound Trailways bus. All of the 18 dozing bus passengers escaped serious injury.

300-Pound Woman, Scalded In Tub, Dies

CHICAGO, Feb. 20 (AP)—A 300-pound woman died yesterday of burns suffered in a bathtub from which she could not free herself because of her weight.

She was Mrs. Blanche Daniels, 51, who was scalded over much of her body Sunday.

Police reported a neighbor heard her screaming in her bathroom, rushed in and turned off the steaming water. Mrs. Daniels was unable to climb from the tub and the neighbor was unable to lift her out.

Third In Music Concert Series Tonight At 8:30

The third of the season's series of binocular stereoscopic concerts being presented by the Music Appreciation Society of Cumberland will be given tonight at 8:30 in SS. Peter and Paul Hall, Fayette Street.

The halfway mark in the series will be reached with tonight's concert, and the increase in advance ticket sales indicates a greater appreciation of the concert is being realized with a wider knowledge of the value of this new concept in music reproduction.

Program notes, which patrons at each concert receive in attractive brochure form, include a biographical sketch of the composer and a descriptive explanation of the work.

The feature of this evening's program will be Schubert's Unfinished Symphony with the Florence (Italy) May Festival Orchestra performing under the direction of Vittorio Gui, conductor.

Valse Triste, by Sibelius, opens the program with the same orchestra performing.

Finlandia, also a Sibelius composition, will be played by the same orchestra, and the Voices of Vienna will present the Strauss waltzes.

The concerts are being held for the benefit of the Capuchin Brothers Training School at the local monastery.

Student tickets at half-price and adult tickets are available at the Sykes Music Store, Vandegrift's Music Shop, the Public Library, and at the hall.

Moose Sponsoring Film Program

Cumberland Lodge 271, Moose, will sponsor a series of films, including one on the infiltration tactics of Communists, which will be shown to the public at 8 p. m. today at the lodge home, Beall and Smallwood streets.

The film program was arranged for by Russell L. Minnick, governor of Lodge 271, through Chief DeNeal E. Phillips, local Navy recruiter.

The other films, Minnick said, will include one of combat action in the Korean War and another on survival tactics in case of an A-bomb attack.

The lodge plans to send invitations to attend to the Ministerial Association and other fraternal organizations, Minnick said, since the Communism film is felt to be of importance to the general public.

Beall Plans Meeting On Parkway

Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Maryland) of Frostburg reemphasized his support of the C&O Canal Parkway project yesterday and said "I have no idea of giving up on my No. 1 project for Western Maryland for the past eight years."

Beall said he is "not discouraged" by recent statements from the Department of Interior and Interior Secretary McKay which have more or less written off the parkway as such.

Beall added he would "take every step" to assure a parkway from Cumberland to Hancock, and has scheduled a conference next week with the Interior Department.

McKay said last week that he favored a park instead of a parkway.

His statement brought prompt action Monday by the Mayor and Council. Commissioner William H. Buchholz urged council that in view of McKay's statement it should "start again" to let its support of the project be known. Just recently a city resolution was sent to Maryland representatives in the U. S. Senate and House in behalf of the project.

Council voted unanimously to continue its campaign and ask for a meeting with McKay, Maryland's senators and representatives "to get the facts."

Rock Fall Is Cleared From Tracks

The last of a large rock slide that fell on two tracks of the Western Maryland Railway just west of Connellsville was removed yesterday.

Robert E. Wooters, head of the engineering department of the Elkins Division of the railway, said railroad track construction crews will have the westbound track open for use Thursday.

The railroad estimates the cost of the slide on February 4 that dumped 7,000 tons of rock on the tracks will be about $40,000.

On the day of the slide Moon and Son, Connellsville contractors, pushed away part of the slide and by Sunday a temporary track had been laid around the big pile of stone.

The railroad was only out of service on the Connellsville subdivision for a few hours. Since then traffic through that section has been reduced to five miles per hour.

Three Presidents of the United States fought in the Revolution, five in the War of 1812, three in the Mexican war, six in the Civil War, one in the war with Spain, one in World War I and one in World War II.

Mason Suggests Training Plan, Rank For Police

A suggestion to organize the City Police Department on the same basis of the Maryland State Police, and to begin a training and education program for the local police was made yesterday at a meeting of local authorities at the City Hall.

The proposal came from Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason who said he believes a "rank rating" system and training school would greatly benefit the Police Department.

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn said the informal gathering was called so officers could obtain first-hand information on how to improve their methods of giving testimony in court and the proper methods of gathering evidence on a case.

The proposal for the "rank rating" system would be for the officers to be promoted to various ranks from patrolman to sergeant and to receive a pay increase according to the rank. This system is employed by the State Police, whereas the city police jump from patrolman to sergeant.

Magistrate Mason said he feels the system would create more interest in the department and give the officers an incentive to work.

Magistrate Mason pointed out the patrolman must have a working knowledge of the laws, and stated that after an arrest is made, the officers job is only half-way completed.

After an arrest is made, Magistrate Mason said it is then the duty of the officer to present enough evidence to substantiate the charge.

He said that the evidence should be of good quality, and that experience is the best teacher for gathering evidence.

Mason also suggested that the officers obtain a record of the defendant's previous violations before bringing the case to court. This, he said, would greatly help the magistrate in determining the sentence of the violator. The magistrate also suggested that all evidence be kept for 10 days in case an appeal is taken on the case.

Magistrate Mason stated that the officers should not feel that they must obtain a record of 100 percent convictions, because all persons arrested are not always guilty.

Mason touched on the various state laws and city ordinances which are similar and said that the officers while walking their beats should observe items, such as missing stop signs, and report them.

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, related the various duties of the city attorney and informed the officers they should not hesitate to ask the city attorney for assistance.

Finan touched on the various state laws which "overlap" the city ordinances, and cautioned the officers not to lose their heads while in court.

The city attorney also pointed out that when introducing prior records of defendants, this should be heard, and not be used as evidence.

Finan closed by saying that he felt the Cumberland Police Department has always been sympathetic with juvenile cases, and discussed the proper methods of questioning a defendant.

James S. Getty, assistant State's Attorney, said that the degree of cooperation between the Cumberland Police Department and his office has always been excellent, and added that the State's Attorney's office will always be glad to assist the police at any time.

Police Commissioner William V. Keegan said that he believed the officers are doing an excellent job, and that he will insist on continued good manners and full cooperation from the officers.

Chief Flynn said other meetings may be held in the future and they will be able to go deeper into the matter.

CLOTHESPINS ARE FOR THE KIDS

Let the kids make dolls, planes, or fences with your clothespins. You don't need them any more. Modern electric dryers have taken the place of clothespins and clotheslines.

Give away your liniment too—no more aching backs from lugging soggy, heavy clothes up the cellar stairs and out to the line. No more up-and-down, up-and-down bending from wash basket to line.

And while you're at it, give away the family almanac and crystal ball . . . now you don't have to worry about the weather. Rain, high winds, snow or hail, you can now dry clothes indoors, anytime, getting sunshine-fresh, fluffy results.

See the modern electric dryers now at your local appliance dealer or the nearest utility company store.

CLOTHESPINS ARE FOR THE KIDS

Let the kids make dolls, planes, or fences with your clothespins. You don't need them any more. Modern electric dryers have taken the place of clothespins and clotheslines.

Give away your liniment too—no more aching backs from lugging soggy, heavy clothes up the cellar stairs and out to the line. No more up-and-down, up-and-down bending from wash basket to line.

And while you're at it, give away the family almanac and crystal ball . . . now you don't have to worry about the weather. Rain, high winds, snow or hail, you can now dry clothes indoors, anytime, getting sunshine-fresh, fluffy results.

See the modern electric dryers now at your local appliance dealer or the nearest utility company store.

Clubs Meet PPG Plant Officials

Three executives of the new North Branch plant of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company were introduced to the combined membership of the Cumberland Rotary and Kiwanis clubs yesterday at Central YMCA.

Albert H. Hargreaves, director of the Industrial Promotion Department of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, arranged the program on the spur of the moment Monday night when it was discovered that Henry A. Barnes, traffic director of the City of Baltimore, would be unable to attend the combined meeting.

Joseph J. Celania, who was just named training director for the new plant here, delivered the talk for the day. A former football player under Jim Tatum at the University of Oklahoma, Celania cited the similarity between sports and an industrial training program.

The Rotarians and Kiwanians also heard brief remarks from Robert M. Hainsfurther, who has been named manager of the new $34,000,000 plant. He informed the club men that he had moved his family to Cumberland January 31. He also said that despite the setbacks resulting from bad weather, the company still hoped to be rolling rough glass by July.

William Lawrence, director of industrial relations at the new plant, also was introduced.

3 Democrats File For Congress

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 21 (AP)—Activity picked up in Maryland's congressional races today with three candidates filing for Democratic nomination in separate districts.

Hamilton P. Fox Jr., state attorney for Wicomico County, filed from the 1st District made up of nine Eastern Shore counties.

Rep. George Fallon filed for nomination to his sixth term from Baltimore's 4th District.

And John R. Foley of Kensington, lawyer and member of the Montgomery County Orphan's Court, entered the 6th (Western Maryland) district race.

Of the three, only Fallon is without opposition so far for the May 7th Democratic primary. The deadline for filing is Feb. 27.

Fox will oppose William D. Hill of Easton for nomination to the seat now held by Republican Edward T. Miller, expected to seek GOP nomination to his sixth term.

Foley enters the 6th District Democratic race against another Montgomery County attorney, J. Grahame Walker of Bethesda.

That seat is now held by Republican DeWitt S. Hyde of Bethesda, who filed for nomination Jan. 4 to his third term and is unopposed in the Republican race.

The harbor of Rio de Janeiro is said to have enough deep water for the anchorage of all the navies of the world.

LaVale Lions Club Inducts 12 Members

Twelve new members were inducted into the LaVale Lions Club last night at a dinner meeting attended by 78 persons at the LaVale Fire Hall.

Capt. Charles W. Magaha, troop commander of Maryland State Police of Frederick, was the principal speaker at the affair and John W. Yoder, chairman of Region 1, zone 2 of District 22-W of the Maryland Lions, was in charge of the induction ceremony.

Awards were presented sponsoring members for the new group by Lions International while officers of the LaVale club, Henry H. Lowery, president; Carl O. Belt, membership chairman; and Floyd V. "Sam" Cozad, secretary, received a plaque from the international for the success of the club in its January membership drive.

Cozad and Harold Everline also received membership keys from the international for securing two or more new members during the drive.

New members of the organization are Arnold R. Cicanti, John L. Conway, Chester J. Everline, Paul G. Fazanbaker, Leo P. Ford, Frank A. Guyer, Jack Q. Heath, Eugene R. McGill, Paul C. Owens, Stanley S. Perdew, Ray H. Ruesch and Robert J. Sutton.

Church Brotherhood To Meet Tonight

The Churchman's Brotherhood of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church will meet after the Lenten service at the church tonight.

The congregation is invited to stay after the service to see a movie which will be shown at the meeting. Procured through the Cumberland Ministerial Association, it is titled "The High Wall," and runs 30 minutes. Refreshments will be served.

Tydings Files For Senate Race

Millard E. Tydings, who represented Maryland in the U. S. Senate for 24 years before being defeated in 1950 by Republican John Marshall Butler, the incumbent, is shown as he formally entered the race for the May 7 Democratic primary. Watching him sign the papers are Assistant Secretary of State James Brock and Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro (right), Maryland's Democratic National Committeeman, who urged Tydings to run. Court Probates Will Of Two Men

Wills of two men who died recently were probated yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

One was the last testament of James P. Kenney of Frostburg, who died January 28. He named a friend, Catherine Laughney Carter, executrix of his estate. His property at 143-145 East Main Street, Frostburg, was left to a daughter, Rita Kenney. His property at 86 West Main Street, Frostburg, was bequeathed to his daughter, Rita, and son, Bernard Kenney, share and share alike. The will was dated July 25, 1955.

Also probated was the will of Charles F. Raupach, who died last Saturday in Hagerstown, left his estate to his son, James M. Raupach, 11 Valley Street, who qualified as executor. The will was dated October 4, 1955.

Union Council Opposes Boost In Sales Tax

The Allegany Trades Council is not opposing the teachers pay bill but only the manner of financing it. Joseph F. Garlitz, secretary, announced yesterday.

He said the following telegram was sent to Senator Charles M. See, several members of the Allegany County Delegation and to heads of the House Ways and Means Committee:

"The Allegany Trades Council is opposed to any increase in sales tax to finance HB65."

The bill would increase teachers salaries by $400 a year and finance the boost by increasing the sales tax by one per cent.

Navy Mothers Club will meet at 7:30 Friday evening at the American Legion home. Mrs. Louella Mace is chairman for the pie social following the business session.

Local Man Is Reported Missing

City police are investigating the disappearance of a 21-year-old local man.

Police said they were informed Monday afternoon that John R. Boone, 21, of Jane Frazier Village, has been missing from his home since last Saturday.

The young man is 5 feet, 6 inches tall, weighs about 125 or 130 pounds, has blond hair, hazel eyes, fair complexion, and was last seen wearing khaki trousers, a blue and white plaid shirt, dark jacket, brown shoes. He was wounded in the right arm while in the service, his mother told police.

Weather Hampers Sewage Plant Work

Work on the Cumberland Sewage Treatment Plant almost bogged down in the mud during the week ending February 10, Mayor Roy W. Eves said yesterday.

Rain halted work on Monday of that week, he said, and then warm weather turned the site into a field of mud.

Crews, however, drove sheet piling into the levee where a 54-inch sewer will cross, and the foundation slab of the north wing of the pumping station was poured February 10, using 131 yards of concrete.

Other crews worked on pipe installation and grouting pipe in place in the tunnel in the brickyard area.

Registration Set For Surplus Food

He said he had made about 200 calls himself in the last week, "many of them to leading Democrats throughout the state, asking them for their advice."

The response and his appreciation of "how much the Democratic party of Maryland has done for me," he said prompted him "to accede to these requests."

"To the best of my ability, I will conduct a vigorous campaign, which, so far as I am concerned, shall be based on the issues and principles and as devoid of mud-slinging and dirt as I can possibly make it," he added.

George Washington's Niche Carved Here

It is customary to observe the birthday of George Washington in some fitting manner, and to give editorial recognition to the memory of the man who came down through history as the Father of his Country.

Whatever may be said in that connection has been said before, many times, but there are a few facts which bear repeating, especially in view of the fact that it was here in Cumberland that he began and ended his military career.

His association with Cumberland, and the important part that Cumberland played in the beginnings of this country, were demonstrated with pageantry last summer as the highlight of a year of celebration of the 200th anniversary of the founding of Fort Cumberland.

Time and occasion were responsible for Washington's rise to fame. The American colonies needed leadership. Twenty years before the Revolution there was trouble with France. Washington was a leader in settling that. It was thus foreordained that he should provide the military leadership to defeat the English and bring independence.

Washington's service was a service of necessity. He did not become the first president of the nation because he was sponsored by a political party. He had no party organization, made no campaign, nor did he sweep a nominating convention off its feet by impassioned oratory.

In office, he made no political deals, indulged in no fireside chats, built up no political machine. The presidency was just another job which needed doing, and he did it.

Washington left imperishable words in his Farewell Address. His creed was service. Today his name heads the list in the American Hall of Fame, a niche secure against all comers. And much of the carving was done right here.

Khrushchev Is A Communist

It seems to be surprising to some that Nikita Khrushchev has emerged as the Number One man in Soviet Russia and for that matter in the Soviet Universal State. It could not have been otherwise and I wrote that it would be so the day Malenkov was reduced. The reason that it could not have been otherwise is that the Soviet world is governed by the Marxist church and Khrushchev is the head of that church.

Some well-meaning anti-Communists object to the use of the term Marxist church because they say it will confuse many into believing that there is something holy about it and that it might give some credence to the diversions of such Christian theologians as Rev. Harry Ward or the Red Dean of Canterbury.

But a fact is a fact and since Lenin's day Marxism has formed itself into all the characteristics of a church with dogma and discipline, with a well-defined priesthood, with punishment for heretics. The only thing lacking is God and for Him they substitute what they call science. They now boast more than 6,000,000 adherents for this church—orthodox adherents—and they control about 900,000,000 human beings who fear to utter a syllable lest they be punished for deviations from the true faith.

Nikita Khrushchev is at the head of all this and what he says is to be regarded as final. Those who have their doubts had better keep them to themselves because while Khrushchev seems to be less brutal than his predecessor Stalin, he seems to be equally rigid.

For instance, he has now announced that nobody need worry about the United States anymore as this country is on the brink of being through. Therefore, it will not be necessary to achieve the total socialist world by war because it will come about by the collapse of the United States. This is really only doctrine and was often discussed in Marxist circles, starting with the phrase that capitalism contains the seeds for its own destruction and then going into the broad subject of the contradictions of capitalism and finally reaching the conclusion sometime around 1948 that the imminence of depression in the United States would lead to war. Now Khrushchev says, it can all happen without war and that the United States had better decide to live on good terms with Soviet Russia or Soviet Russia would use economic means to bring about our collapse.

What is startling to me is that anyone finds anything new in this argument. It has, with variations, been continuous since 1917, except that in the early days it was set forth as theory, now it is described as inevitable historic fact.

So, what does Khrushchev expect us to do about it? Does he expect us to lie down and die? As one looks at the figures, the United States is nowhere near an economic collapse. We have, in fact, balanced our budget and might even someday get a tax cut. It is true that we are still spending too much on various forms of foreign aid but we still appear to have the money to do it, although some of it seems profligate. We can afford to build arms and let our people have butter, too. In fact, we produce so much of both that we do not know what to do with the butter.

So things are not as bad as Comrade Khrushchev says and there is no immediate fear that Eugene Dennis will take over the White House, abolish Congress, and put us all on rations. Or maybe, Khrushchev plans to kill Dennis and appoint either Burgess or MacLean to govern us. Who knows what his brilliant mind can conceive?

The future of our country is not in the hands of Mr. Khrushchev nor even in the hands of Paul Hoffman who would give away to Asia as he once gave away to Europe. Had he thought of Asia back in the days of "Europe First," we should probably not need to worry so much about neutrals now, but it is too late to think about that. What we need to devote ourselves to now is rebuilding patriotism, intensifying our sense of duty and self-respect, including pride in our work—then we shall have all the strength we require for our defense. It is not in allies that strength lies but in the will of our own people.

U. N. Has Obligation In Middle East Arms Race

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Time was when, if any events occurred which threatened the peace of the world, there would be a special meeting of the United Nations Assembly and a general discussion of the pros and cons of the problem.

This is what is called moral force — a mobilization of world opinion.

But today there is little inclination to call the United Nations Assembly into session to take up the acute situation in the Middle East.

Maybe it's because the United Nations itself, through its "package deals" and its log-rolling tactics, is afraid to tackle a factional controversy within its own ranks. Ever since the U. N. Security Council adopted a resolution of censure of Israel—a move that was interpreted in that country as partisan and as hostile to its interests—there has been difficulty in getting the U. N. itself to take a broad perspective on the whole Middle East problem.

Unfortunate For U. S.

It is true the U. N. had a commission on the spot and that it reported on the border raids. But it was a mistake to leave the matter to a military commission instead of one especially chosen to look into all phases. Instead of a resolution of censure or any other action on the border raids, the U. N. Assembly might well have used the occasion to call a halt to the use of force or the threat to use force on the part of any of the countries involved in the Middle East friction.

Until the U. N. steps in and demands that all the nations in the Middle East suspend their arms race, the situation may go from bad to worse. It is most unfortunate that the United States should be placed in the position of being required to take unilateral action. Whether Saudi Arabia gets tanks or Israel gets arms is not a matter for the Washington government alone but for all the nations of the free world to consider.

Actually, the present crisis was provoked by the Soviet Union, which entered into negotiations to supply Egypt with arms. This, in turn, stirred the apprehension of the people of Israel. A chain reaction has been started which has aroused, too, the countries of the Arab world. All this is to the advantage of the Communists, who are fishing in troubled waters.

Censure Resolution Overdue

The solution lies in the charter of the United Nations, which is empowered to take up any dispute that threatens the peace of the world. Certainly, since the Soviet Union has been guilty of starting an arms race in the Middle East, a resolution of censure for this is long overdue.

The question is broader than any single country's interests. The United States government wants to remain friendly with Israel and to furnish economic aid. But, at the same time, Saudi Arabia has made available a military base for the use of the American air forces. All this is well known to Moscow, which plays one side against the other.

The United States, moreover, is in the midst of a presidential and congressional campaign, and the Middle East issue gets into American politics no matter how hard people in this country may strive to keep it out. For some of the candidates are bound to issue statements seeking to benefit by the vote of one group or the other of

If we followed Washington's advice we would have been out of the woods long ago. But the politicians discovered that's where the bird nests are.

George could see further ahead than a cat in a tunnel. Everything he said about foreign entanglements matured as specified.

Some people say George was old-fashioned. So is eating and breathing.

Disraeli said a principle was an

Washington's interlocking advice was laughed off by the small-bore intellectuals of Franklin Delano's dynasty. But it's still as good as his picture on a Treasury note.

Forthright Gas Lobby Investigation Would Embarrass High Californians

By Drew Pearson

"I have long considered Mr. Keck to be one of the most ruthless individuals in the whole oil industry."

Grand Jury Probe

Significantly, the man who is conducting the grand jury probe of Keck's man John Neff and the $2,500 Case contribution, knows the Keck situation in California intimately. He is Warren Olney, close friend of Chief Justice Warren, appointed by Warren as counsel of the California Crime Commission, in which job he had a chance to know something about the techniques used by oil-gas lobbies to dominate the California Legislature.

Olney will push an exhaustive Justice Department probe, while his fellow Californian, Senator Knowland, is trying to avoid the exhaustive Senate probe planned by Senator Gore.

Here are the facts in the dynamite-laden California situation which if it explodes could blow various GOP politicians out of the water in California, and various Democrats elsewhere.

Keck Family Setup

Chairman of the board of Superior Oil is William Keck, President of the company is his son, Howard B. Keck, who put up the money for Senator Case. The Keck family owns 51 per cent of Superior Oil, wealthiest independent oil-gas company in the nation, with stock valued at over $1,000 a share. It shot up $120 a share on the day the Senate passed the gas bill.

Operating for the Kecks in Washington has been registered lobbyist Monroe Butler. He was here during the gas debate last summer and approached various California congressmen, asking them to vote for the bill. He also contributed to some of their campaigns.

Republican congressmen from California voted almost in a bloc for the bill, and the amount of money they may have received from the Kecks might have been in Senator's Knowland's mind when he proposed that the probe be taken away from Senator Gore.

Monroe Butler not only lobbied for the Kecks in Washington 'ut also in Sacramento. There he lobbied to defeat a conservation bill similar to that introduced in the Nebraska Legislature which lobbyist Neff helped to kill. It was in Nebraska that Neff gave another $2,500 to the GOP.

Thus, the Keck family has already set a pattern of lobbying in various states, and the healthiest thing that could happen to promote honest government would be a sweeping probe of all gas-oil money pouring into state legislatures as well as into Congress.

Rival Of Art Samish

Active in lobbying before the California Legislature was not only Keck-lobbyist Monroe Butler, but Keck-Lawyer Harold C. Morton, one of the ablest attorneys in Los Angeles. Between them these two men exerted more power with the California Legislature than even famed Artie Samish, lobbyist for the beer and whisky industry.

On one occasion Morton and Butler had a showdown with the legislature over a race-track bill affecting Santa Anita. The Morton-Butler forces won.

Partner in the Morton law firm was Charles Lyons, who when speaker of the California Assembly was convicted and jailed for taking a so-called "lawyer's fee" for influencing legislation. Lyons, a Republican, was three times speaker of the assembly.

To replace him as speaker, Lyons' law partner, Harold Morton, is now grooming his son-in-law, Joe Shell, newly elected to the assembly, and already vice chairman of the Gas and Oil Committee, a very important body when it comes to passing upon legislation affecting Superior Oil and other gas-oil companies.

Young Shell, son-in-law of Keck's attorney, was active in passing the tidelands drilling bill governing the operation of oil companies in offshore areas; also in the battle over gas-oil conservation.

This battle, similar to that in Nebraska, disrupted the California Assembly into one of the bitterest battles in recent years. The showdown came over a milk-toast substitute for conservation called the "Ward Bill" which left control of conservation in the hands of a committee of 30 oil-gas producers. The bill was emphatically opposed by another Californian serving in the Justice Department, Stanley Barnes, assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust activities. He charged it with acting in violation of the anti-trust act.

Despite this, the gas-oil lobby won. Their victory, according to Assemblyman Lloyd W. Lowrey of Yolo County, was due to the campaign contributions of Keck-lobbyist Harold Morton.

"Morton," said Lowrey, "set himself up as a new Art Samish who would rule the state with a more ruthless hand."

That's the pattern set in California by the same powerful oil-gas family that sought to influence the vote of Senator Case in Washington.

NEW YORK—(INS)—Vol. 1, No. 1 of the "Times of Viet Nam" has just reached this desk. It is the first English language paper ever printed in a seething area where Communist aggression (highly successful) brought us to what Mr. Dulles later described as the brink of war.

The maiden issue features a definition of democracy which might have been written by Nguyen M. Thai, the weekly's editor and publisher, Le Ngo Nhi, senior editor, or Nguyen Van Thai, feature editor. Then again, it might have been written by Thomas Jefferson. T. J. would have been foggy if asked about that part of the world in his time, but he certainly would have stood behind the pen of the Viet Namese who told his long-exploited people:

"We have heard men in public life say, 'I am very democratic. I thoroughly enjoy a good talk with a peasant.' It is hard to see what this has to do with democracy. Democracy is faith in humanity, not faith in the 'poor' or the 'working' people. It is faith in every living soul. Contrary to some doctrines enjoying currency in the world today, democracy does not enthrone the working man any more than it enthrone the bourgeoisie."

Air Travelers Ahead

Are there going to be enough air travelers to re-pay the airlines for buying all those $4,000,000 (plus) jet transports they'll start getting delivery on in a few years? A survey made by the Douglas company says yep.

By 1956, the study shows, there will be 1,034 planes of the DC-3, Convair and Martin types on the job, plus 1,336 others engaged in hauling travelers on short jumps. There will be 122 Douglas and Lockheed of the earlier known 4-engine type; 282 DC-6Bs and Super Connies; 444 turbo-prop planes like the Viscount and the larger type American Airlines is now buying from Lockheed; and 515 of the Series-G Connie, the DC-7 and their variations.

As for jets in 1965 the sampling shows expectations of a dozen French-made medium jets, a couple of dozen Comet IV's, three or four dozen turbo-prop Britannias and 157 U.S. jets of the DC-8 and Boeing 707 type.

People now are flying first class at six cents a mile and a bit over four cents a mile on tourist planes. The airlines are eyeing the railroad rate of 2.8 cents a mile, hope to make heavy inroads on this coach trade. If this field is tapped, the world airlines can use from 120 to 223 more 707s and DC-8s by 1965.

Looking For Treaty

Why did the Reds decide to pry the lid off Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean just at this time? Vladimir Petrov, the Russian spy who defected two years ago in Australia and has since been given asylum there, feels that it is part of a complex cold war maneuver designed to show the British man-in-the-street that "decency" Englishmen are so resentful of U.S. foreign policy they prefer to go to Russia to live rather than cooperate. (Khrushchev and Bulganin soon will make a state visit to England.)

Petrov adds that the complicated Russian propagandists also figured that there would be a cry in the U.S. to stop giving atomic secrets to Great Britain—what with Burgess and MacLean having broken a camel's back already sorely strained by Alan Nunn May, Klaus Fuchs and Bruno Pontecorvo. And such a clamp-down would offend Britain into signing one of those 20-year "friendship treaties" with the U.S.S.R.

Bigger Rostrum Needed

Vice President Nixon made a special effort Saturday night at the Radio and TV Correspondents dinner in Washington to point out that Chief Justice Earl Warren (who was present) was beyond the claim of any political party. It was Nixon's effort to counteract the unhappy response to his statement last week concerning the role of a "Republican chief justice" in the integration fight. But the counter action will need a much bigger rostrum that the correspondents could offer.

George Washington's Niche Carved Here

It is customary to observe the birthday of George Washington in some fitting manner, and to give editorial recognition to the memory of the man who came down through history as the Father of his Country.

Whatever may be said in that connection has been said before, many times, but there are a few facts which bear repeating, especially in view of the fact that it was here in Cumberland that he began and ended his military career.

His association with Cumberland, and the important part that Cumberland played in the beginnings of this country, were demonstrated with pageantry last summer as the highlight of a year of celebration of the 200th anniversary of the founding of Fort Cumberland.

Time and occasion were responsible for Washington's rise to fame. The American colonies needed leadership. Twenty years before the Revolution there was trouble with France. Washington was a leader in settling that. It was thus foreordained that he should provide the military leadership to defeat the English and bring independence.

Washington's service was a service of necessity. He did not become the first president of the nation because he was sponsored by a political party. He had no party organization, made no campaign, nor did he sweep a nominating convention off its feet by impassioned oratory.

In office, he made no political deals, indulged in no fireside chats, built up no political machine. The presidency was just another job which needed doing, and he did it.

Washington left imperishable words in his Farewell Address. His creed was service. Today his name heads the list in the American Hall of Fame, a niche secure against all comers. And much of the carving was done right here.

Looking For Treaty

Why did the Reds decide to pry the lid off Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean just at this time? Vladimir Petrov, the Russian spy who defected two years ago in Australia and has since been given asylum there, feels that it is part of a complex cold war maneuver designed to show the British man-in-the-street that "decent" Englishmen are so resentful of U.S. foreign policy they prefer to go to Russia to live rather than co-operate. (Khrushchev and Bulganin soon will make a state visit to England.)

Petrov adds that the complicated Russian propagandists also figured that there would be a cry in the U.S. to stop giving atomic secrets to Great Britain — what with Burgess and MacLean having broken a camel's back already sorely strained by Alan Nunn May, Klaus Fuchs and Bruno Pontecorvo. And such a clamp-down would offend Britain into signing one of those 20-year "friendship treaties" with the U.S.S.R.

Bigger Rostrum Needed

Vice President Nixon made a special effort Saturday night at the Radio and TV Correspondents dinner in Washington to point out that Chief Justice Earl Warren (who was present) was beyond the claim of any political party. It was Nixon's effort to counteract the unhappy response to his statement last week concerning the role of a "Republican chief justice" in the integration fight. But the counter action will need a much bigger rostrum that the correspondents could offer.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

In honor of Beef Month the Omaha Chamber of Commerce has presented President Eisenhower with six three-inch steaks. Now there's a gesture that's in mighty good taste.

Tokyo seamstresses held special memorial services for needles broken during the year. We don't get the point.

Surprised by cops, Chicago gamblers hid their dice in some coffee. Probably thought the dominoes would be mistaken for sugar cubes.

WASHINGTON — Time was when, if any events occurred which threatened the peace of the world, there would be a special meeting of the United Nations Assembly and a general discussion of the pros and cons of the problem.

This is what is called moral force — a mobilization of world opinion.

But today there is little inclination to call the United Nations Assembly into session to take up the acute situation in the Middle East.

Maybe it's because the United Nations itself, through its "package deals" and its log-rolling tactics, is afraid to tackle a factional controversy within its own ranks. Ever since the U. N. Security Council adopted a resolution of censure of Israel—a move that was interpreted in that country as partisan and as hostile to its interests — there has been difficulty in getting the U. N. itself to take a broad perspective on the whole Middle East problem.

Unfortunate For U. S.

It is true the U. N. had a commission on the spot and that it reported on the border raids. But it was a mistake to leave the matter to a military commission instead of one especially chosen to look into all phases. Instead of a resolution of censure or any other action on the border raids, the U. N. Assembly might well have used the occasion to call a halt to the use of force or the threat to use force on the part of any of the countries involved in the Middle East friction.

Until the U. N. steps in and demands that all the nations in the Middle East suspend their arms race, the situation may go from bad to worse. It is most unfortunate that the United States should be placed in the position of being required to take unilateral action. Whether Saudi Arabia gets tanks or Israel gets arms is not a matter for the Washington government alone but for all the nations of the free world to consider.

Actually, the present crisis was provoked by the Soviet Union, which entered into negotiations to supply Egypt with arms. This, in turn, stirred the apprehension of the people of Israel. A chain reaction has been started which has aroused, too, the countries of the Arab world. All this is to the advantage of the Communists, who are fishing in troubled waters.

Censure Resolution Overdue

The solution lies in the charter of the United Nations, which is empowered to take up any dispute that threatens the peace of the world. Certainly, since the Soviet Union has been guilty of starting an arms race in the Middle East, a resolution of censure for this is long overdue.

The question is broader than any single country's interests. The United States government wants to remain friendly with Israel and to furnish economic aid. But, at the same time, Saudi Arabia has made available a military base for the use of the American air forces. All this is well known to Moscow, which plays one side against the other.

The United States, moreover, is in the midst of a presidential and congressional campaign, and the Middle East issue gets into American politics no matter how hard people in this country may strive to keep it out. For some of the candidates are bound to issue statements seeking to benefit by the vote of one group or the other of

If we followed Washington's advice we would have been out of the woods long ago. But the politicians discovered that's where the bird nests are.

George could see further ahead than a cat in a tunnel. Everything he said about foreign entanglements matured as specified.

Some people say George was old-fashioned. So is eating and breathing.

Disraeli said a principle was an embalmed precedent. George left us enough to stock all the crisis hatcheries forever.

Washington's interlocking advice was laughed off by the small-bore intellectuals of Franklin Delano's dynasty. But it's still as good as his picture on a Treasury note.

dence of arthritis elsewhere. The enforced inactivity undoubtedly shortened her life.

A toptoth executive was told at age 45 that he was drinking too much and in danger of developing cirrhosis of the liver. But he knew better and besides, was convinced that his business could not be conducted without cocktails. The physician's prediction came true, for at age 55, his liver was so hardened it was beyond repair.

This man did not realize that the organ has a tremendous reserve and that symptoms seldom appear until eight-ninths of the structure is affected.

Most diseases that plague the elderly have their onset in mid-life.

They develop slowly and unless recognized and treated, may reach a disabling stage long before nature intended. Through a well organized health program, encompassing mind as well as body, many of these illnesses can be retarded or controlled.

This is best accomplished through the annual physical examination. It is the little things that begin in the 40s and simmer through the 50s that reach a boil in the 60s. Those who want to feel their best on retirement must plan for it.

The annual checkup will detect early diabetes, high blood pressure, arthritis, gout, gall bladder disease, and hardening of the arteries. Bringing early diabetes under control staves off the later manifestations such as poor vision and disturbed circulation to the legs.

Maintaining a normal weight holds many maladies in abeyance. Hypertension, angina pectoris, diabetes, and arthritis of the weight bearing joints are headliners in this group. Many persons spend too much time tight age rather than learning to enrich it. Longevity is a product of our civilization and we might as well accept its disadvantages and enjoy its advantages.

Garrett Farmers Urged To Attend Area Meetings

Hay Drying Problems Will Be Discussed

OAKLAND—County Agent John Carter announced yesterday that two unique round table discussion meetings have been scheduled to help farmers of this area with their hay drying and barn ventilating problems. The first meeting is scheduled for the Northern High School at the Cove March 13 at 7:30 p. m. The second meeting will be held at the Southern High School March 14 at 7:30 p. m.

Carter said the meetings are being held as a result of the interest in a similar meeting held last year. He also said that farmers who attended last year's meeting will be notified of this year's meetings and will be on hand to give some results of their hay drying operations in the past year.

There will not be a main speaker for the meetings and all farmers present will have an opportunity to take part in the discussions and question and answer period.

Items to be discussed include benefits to cattle through feeding mow dried hay, operation and design of hay drying systems, problems of farm management concerned with hay drying such as savings on feed and pastures, costs of operation and differences between mow and field dried hay.

Farmers who attended last year's meeting and other farmers who have been using hay driers will be on hand to give their personal observations on operating the equipment.

Barn ventilating has been added to this year's meeting because of many requests from local farmers. Carter said that discussion on this equipment will include types and design of various ventilating systems, costs of operation, and other important points.

Representatives from the University of Maryland and the Potomac Edison Company who are familiar with the operation of hay driers and barn ventilating equipment have cooperated in arranging the meeting and will be on hand for both sessions.

Carter urged all local farmers to attend either of the meetings since the experience of the similar meeting held last year proved so successful.

Dentist Tells Town Council About Fluorine

PIEDMONT—Dr. Lawrence Fanti, local dentist, Monday night explained the advantages found in strengthening and preserving teeth by adding fluorine to the town's water system.

Dr. Fanti told Mayor Rodney Baker and Council that fluorine the water will reduce the percentage of tooth decay among children.

He suggested that a committee be appointed to investigate and discuss the issue with groups. Dr. Fanti said he thought the cost would be small. A solution feeder will cost about $250, and it is believed the method will not cost more than five or six cents a year for each person of the community.

Meanwhile Baker said shale will be available to patch holes in streets, and that streets needing repairs are being checked.

Councilman Mervin High gave a report on the bath house at the swimming pool which is being remodeled by A. C. Clark. Councilman Garland Cheshire stated he had some complaints about dogs.

Curtains in the Piedmont Opera House, second floor of the City Building, will be given to Piedmont Pentecostal Church. Members of the church contacted town officials and the council voted unanimously to let them have them.

Ormond Ledlow, city clerk, reported that $105.34 was received from the street and parking lot parking meters last week.

Piedmont Lodge 1120, Loyal Order of the Moose, was granted a permit to hold a carnival the week of July 27.

Frostburg Rotary Gives Books To City In India

FROSTBURG — Rev. Edward Godsey, program chairman for Monday night's meeting of the Frostburg Rotary Club, presented a movie, "Welcome to Washington." The movie showed graphically how the three branches of our government were set up by the Constitution, the executive, the judicial and the legislative. It then took the viewer on tour of the city, showing governmental buildings and items of interest.

Reford Aldridge, member of the International Service committee, announced that an "American Bookshelf" composed of 99 outstanding American books selected by the United States Information Agency under the direction of CARE and valued at over $50 was sent by his committee to the City of Bikaner, India, to be placed in the library or the college located there. It was from this city that

Keyser Citizens Collect $1,499 To Fight Boost

KEYSER — Some $1,499.54 has been collected locally by the citizens' group which is fighting the proposed increase in natural gas rates, according to Herschel M. Hedrick, one of the leaders in the organization here.

This money will be used to assist the Inter-Community League of Central-Eastern West Virginia in combating the proposed increase.

Roy L. McCabe, chairman of the local drive, said that additional funds still are urgently needed. Contributions should be left at the D & D Cleaners, Murray Insurance Agency office or the Winfield Grocery. Checks may be sent to Hedrick. Persons wishing to have some one pick up their contribution should call 42230 or 3241 in Keyser.

Capital Chorus Added Attraction

WARDENSVILLE — The Wardensville Lions Club has begun preparations for its seventh annual "Quartets on Parade" program which will be held at the high school auditorium, Saturday, March 18, at 8 p. m.

For the past six years, the Lions here have brought into Wardensville top rate entertainment in old fashioned barber shop harmony.

This year, the popular Washington, D. C., "Columbians" will again be on the program. As an added feature this year, the Lions will also present a 50-male voice singing group which holds the title of international chorus champions. Also from Washington, this group is known as The Singing Capital Chorus.

The Wardensville Quartet and the Mathias Quartet will also appear on the program, and several other singing-fours are expected to participate.

In addition to providing the community and area with first class musical entertainment of its kind, the program also serves as the main source of income for the local club's sight and health conservation work.

Church Circles Meet Thursday

PIEDMONT — Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet Thursday evening at Trinity Methodist Church.

The circles will meet at 7 p. m. and the general meeting will be held at 7:30 in the recreation hall of the church.

The Charlotte Wagner Circle will be hostesses with Mrs. Edward Warnick in charge of the worship service and program.

Mrs. P. E. Berry will be the principal speaker. She will discuss "The World's Laborer. Worth of His Hire." Victor Kalbaugh will sing, "Labor On" with Mrs. J. C. Rhodes, accompanist.

The Study course, introduction to the fine spiritual class are scheduled to begin Wednesday, March 7 at 2 p. m. with Mrs. A. V. Gallian, Keyser, instructor. It will be continued on March 14, 21 and 28.

Man Arrested At Burlington As Fugitive

Faces Rape Count In Albion, N. Y.

KEYSER — A man wanted in New York State on a second degree rape charge was picked up in Mineral County Monday evening and when unable to post a $50,000 bond yesterday morning was turned over to the U. S. Marshal and was transported to Fairmont, W. Va., to await his return to New York.

Kermit Robert Ramsey, alias Paul O'Dell, 30, was arrested Monday evening by State Trooper Charles Oliver of the Keyser detachment at Ridgeville near Burlington on U. S. Route 50. The arrest was made after J. Gordon Shanklin, agent in charge of the Pittsburgh FBI office, who was riding with Trooper Oliver, spotted Ramsey standing in the yard along the highway. He had been staying there since Christmas.

The FBI was called to assist in tracing Ramsey when it was determined that he had left New York State. The search was centered on West Virginia because Ramsey was a native of Indore, in Clay County. Finally the search centered on Mineral County when it was determined that he had been employed at an eating place at Ridgeville.

Ramsey was facing trial on the rape charge in Albion, N. Y., when he "jumped" bond and disappeared. He had been released February 10, 1954.

South Branch Poultrymen On Honor Roll

Area Dominates January Winners

A number of South Branch Valley farmers are named on the January Honor Roll and honorable mention list of West Virginia broiler growers, announced yesterday in Morgantown by Ted R. Hash, extension poultryman at West Virginia University.

Among the five growers named to the Pro League, among growers who have 5,000 or more capacity per brood, are Stanley Fultz of Hardy County and Henry H. Simmons of Pendleton County.

Four of the five growers in the Semi-Pro League, for growers who have less than 5,000 capacity per brood, are from this area. They are Harold W. Good, Hampshire County; Harper Keplinger, Grant County; Noah Brennan, Grant County; and Frank S. Alt, Grant County. They are joined by Otis Weikle of Monroe County.

The January honorable mention list for feed conversion includes the following:

Pro League — Jack Rudolph, Hampshire County; Stanley Fultz, Hardy County; Marvin Strother, Hampshire County and two others from outside this area.

Semi-Pro League — Glenn Saville, Hampshire County; Loring Orndorff, Hardy County; Forrest Simmons, Pendleton County, and three others from outside this area.

West Virginia's 1956 Broiler King will be selected from the monthly Honor Rolls and honorable mention lists, Hash explained. He will be crowned during the annual State Poultry Convention and Festival at Moorefield August 1-3. The 1955 king was B. F. Lloyd of Sutton in Braxton County.

Suit Docketed Over Property

An equity suit has been filed in Garrett County Circuit Court at Oakland in which the court is asked to declare null and void a deed for a tract of property in the Red House section.

The bill of complaint, docketed by Horace P. Whitworth Jr., attorney for Effie Florence Stahl, a widow, against Fred L. and Jean Taylor Eisinger, of Washington, states that Mrs. Stahl is legal owner to 103 acres of land.

It is claimed that on December 31, 1955 the Garrett County Board of Education conveyed to the defendants, Fred L. and Jean Taylor Eisinger, a small part of the 103 acres totaling four-tenths of an acre known as the "Sunnyside School Lot".

In order to remove a cloud on her title to the land, Mrs. Stahl has brought suit. She and her late husband, Howard O. Stahl, have been in possession of the real estate in the controversy since January 23, 1915 and have paid state and county taxes on the real estate to date, according to the bill of complaint.

Early Frost Wins First Place In Play Contest

FROSTBURG — Monday night at Beall High School, three groups, all members of the school Dramatic Club, directed by faculty advisors, Thomas Hutcheson and Grace Bittner, presented three plays which were unique in that they were directed, staged, made up applied, and presented by the members themselves.

The cast receiving first place from the judges, Paul Hilaire, Grace Bittner, and Anna McLucke, all faculty members, was the one producing "Early Frost", the director of which was Carol Chaney. The cast included Louise, Connie Frankland, Mrs. Clayton, Naomi Sigler, Alvie, Mary Scarpelli, Hannah, Mary Love Jacobs, Lydia, Frances Brode. The stage crew for the winning group was: Light and sound, Willa Jean Duncan, properties, Sandra Duncan; stage manager, Carole Walker; costumes, Christine Natolly.

The two other plays presented and their participants were as follows: "Life Mask", directed by Sandra Loar. The cast: Angela, Barbara Montana; Cynthia, Ellen Richardson; Bessie, Carole Lewis; Brooks, Howie Lemmert; Regina, Marie Goebel; Jenny, Shirley Winters. The stage crew: make-up, Pat Harvey and Shirley Hager; lights, Edward Kyle; prompters, Blanche Fluer and Vicki Kennedy.

"The Plum Tree", directed by Anna Grace Baer. The cast: Davy, Josephine Roe; Angelina, Jean Robertson; Melvina Rust, Judy Fike; Miss Wimple, Kathy Stanton; Miss Cobb, Sylvia Bolden; Miss Tiddle, Elaine Myers; Miss Christianson, Diana Meehan. The stage crew: prompter, Andres Sigler; lights and sound, Joanne Lepic; make up, Pat Harvey.

The object of the evening's performances was to choose a play for presentation in the state play tournament.

A regional tournament, comprised of high schools of Washington, Allegany, and Garrett county will be held March 21, during school hours in a school somewhere in this area. The public will be permitted to attend.

Hutcheson stated that although the judges selected the cast of "Early Frost" as giving the best performance, the play "Life Mask" was chosen by the judges to be the one presented in the tournament.

Lonaconing Club Hears Speech About Plastics

Joseph Haugen Presents Program

LONA CONING—Joseph K. Haugen, a past president of Lonaconing Lions club and instructor at Valley High School, spoke on plastics and showed specimens of general plastics, at the Lions Club dinner program on Monday evening.

He explained that general basis of plastics has changed considerably over a period of years; giving statistics through the years, especially the 1929-56 period, and the inventions and manufacturing of different types, and the "bonding process" in finishing the product.

Kendrick Y. Hodgdon, president, conducted the meeting. Invocation was given by Rev. Joseph W. Young. The Valley High "Citizens of the Month", Shirley Snyder and John Johnson were honor guests.

Wesley Duckworth, superintendent of General Textile mill, Lonaconing, was a guest attending the dinner program. Harry Bosley will be program chairman for the March 5 meeting.

John Stakem gave a short talk on the 1955-56 visitations which have excellent indications of a record year. Nelson Keyes reported on the public card party which is being sponsored by the club in April. James Langley reported on sales of light bulbs for the sight conservation fund to provide eye glasses to children.

Piedmont Wins PVC Title As Circleville Loses, 103-50

Indians Are Eliminated By Elk Garden

Elks Hang Up New Record, Give Lions 3rd Title In PVC

ELK GARDEN, W. Va., Feb. 21.—Elk Garden High School routed Circleville High School here tonight by the score of 103-50 and knocked the Indians from Pendleton County out of chance to win the Potomac Valley Conference basketball title.

Tonight's setback for Circleville enabled Piedmont High School to capture its third P.V.C. championship in four years with a 12-2 record. Circleville's record is 5-2 with one game left to play. Had Circleville won tonight's game and next week's final with Mathias the Indians could have emerged as conference champions.

Coach Paul Kalbaugh's Elks hung up a new school record in amassing 103 points. Frank Wilson scored the 100th and 101st points on foul goals.

The Elks scored 40 field goals to 18 for the visitors. John Hershberger was high scorer with 13 goals and 30 points. Tom Rawlings gathered 25 and Wilson made 22. Dallas Harper and Tom Luzier paced Circleville with 18 and 16 markers.

Elk Garden had won the series opener at Circleville by the score of 59-51.

The Elk Jayvees beat the Alumni in the preliminary game, 34-33.

Andrews Scores Over Kilgore

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 21.—Al Andrews, 163, St. Paul, Minn., outpointed Billy Kilgore, 167½, Miami, tonight in 10 rounds at the Auditorium before 2,506 fans who paid a gross gate of $6,003.

The fight started fast with Kilgore seeming to have the edge in the first couple of rounds. In the second round a short right dropped Andrews to one knee.

In the third Andrews began rushing Kilgore, landing body blows and an occasional right to the head. From that point on he was in command and repeatedly rushed tired Miami.

The decision was unanimous.

Brooks Head South For Spring Training

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—An advance contingent of players and coaches of the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball team left LaGuardia field this morning aboard the team's private plane, a DC3, bound for their spring training camp at Vero Beach, Florida.

Passengers were Dodger President Walter O'Malley, Coach Jake Pitler, catcher Roy Campanella, pitcher Billy Loes, and other players, mostly pitchers and catchers.

Team officials said the rest of the team will report to spring training early in March.

Fight Is Postponed

PARIS, Feb. 21.—The ten round middleweight fight between Cuban Kid Gavilan and Germain Balier of France, scheduled for Thursday, was postponed until March 8 today when Gavilan was stricken with influenza.

Kid Tunero, Gavilan's chief trainer, said doctors ordered the former welterweight champion to bed "for a few days."

Yamin Chade, Gavilan's manager, is in London for an inquiry by the British Boxing Board of Control concerning an unpopular decision awarded to Peer Waterman over Gavilan Feb. 7.

Paul O'Shea, Victor Here, Is National Racing Champ

New Yorker Scored At Airport In May

Paul O'Shea, 27, of Rye, N. Y., winner of the eighth race at the Cumberland Municipal Airport on Sunday, May 15, is the United States' sports car racing champion of 1955.

According to an article in the New York Times, written by Frank M. Blunk, O'Shea won his first "stake" race of the year in Cumberland.

"The quiet young man in the Mercedes-Benz moved in from soon after the start and came home the winner with a record for the course," Blunk wrote.

The Empire State driver won the Jane Frazier Trophy in the race here. He was at the wheel of car No. 148 and his time was 61.7 MPH. Ralph Durbin, Birmingham, Mich., was second and J. Robinson McCormick, Columbus, Ohio, was third.

"There were two more big races that month, both at Thompson, Conn., one unrestricted, the other a class event. The winners? Mr. O'Shea and the same Mercedes-Benz."

"A good car and racing luck," said the experts. And now they began looking at O'Shea, though still with skepticism. He raced six times in July. He was forced out of action twice at Beverly, Mass., while in the lead. Minor mechanical troubles developed, but he played it safe.

Won Races On Coast
"Then he won two races at San Diego, Calif., and two at Seattle and hung up two more course marks. In September he was a victor over the new course at Elk Hart Lake, Wis., 16 miles out of Sheboygan, and came back to New York to triumph in the annual Watkins Glen Trophy race. In October he took the Gov. McKellin Cup at Hagerstown, and an unrestricted event at Sacramento, Cal.

"A fourth place in another test at Sacramento and a third at Gendale in November followed. Back in New York this month he was feted by the Sports Car Club as the 1955 sports car champion of America. Officials of the Daimler-Benz Company, manufacturers of his car, came from Germany to honor him.

"O'Shea's sponsor is George Tilp, a metal stamping manufacturer of Union, N. J. Tilp has ordered a new Mercedes-Benz for O'Shea to drive in the gruelling 12-hour test at Sebring, Fla., next month."

Gave Up Law Study
O'Shea is a consulting engineer with the Daimler-Benz Company of America. Eight years ago he was struggling with the law books at the University of Massachusetts library. He quit college and got a job as an auto mechanic. "I bought a little French car, took it apart and put it together again. It ran," Paul said.

Calhoun, Fullmer To Meet March 16

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Rory Calhoun, undefeated, 23-year-old White Plains, N. Y., middleweight prospect, today signed to meet Gene (Cyclone) Fullmer, sixth ranking contender, at Madison Square Garden, March 16.

The husky, hard-hitting Calhoun, whose real first name is Herman, racked up his 18th straight victory and ninth kayo last night when he stopped Angelo de Fendis of Brooklyn in five rounds at St. Nicholas Arena.

Carrasquel Signs Cleveland Pact

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21.—Shortstop Chico Carrasquel and two rookie pitchers have signed their 1956 Cleveland Indians' contracts, the baseball club announced today.

The Tribe now has 38 players signed. Six others still must come to terms.

The newly signed rookie pitchers are Marion Murszewski, a southpaw won 9 and lost 14 with Indianapolis last summer, and Edgague, a righthander who posted a 2-2 record at Indianapolis and a 5-5 mark at Tulsa last year after his discharge from military service.

Carrasquel hit .256 in 145 American League games last summer.

Sports Grill Valley Girls Top St. Mary's In 40-32 Tilt

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (INS).—William Tell busted his way into song and story the day he shot an apple off his son's head with a bow and arrow.

That was nice shooting under the circumstances. Old Bill must have been under something of a strain and the boy even more so, especially if he suspected that the old man might have had a few bolts of apple cider the previous night.

We want to take nothing away from Tell's performance but we have seen better in vaudeville. We recall a knife thrower who used to ring his wife's head, neck and torso with heavy blades.

If he ever missed by an inch his wife would have been in the same sad condition as would Tell's son if his dad had undershot the apple. Moreover, Tell had to stage his act only once. The knife thrower did his twice a day, every day.

Archers today admit Tell must have been good but they can name hundreds of modern men—and women—who could do as well. What's that? You don't think there are hundreds of archers today?

That's where you're wrong. There were 25,000 registered bow and arrow deer hunters in New York State last fall and it is estimated there are about 250,000 unregistered bowmen in the state.

The deer hunters bagged their share of deer without killing a rother archer.

Unfortunately, one group of archers got no deer because they are totally blind and can't hunt. But we have seen them shooting at a target in a home of the blind. The target consists of concentric rings of various metals, and the blind archer knows how close he has come to dead center by the different sounds of the metal head of the shaft striking the rings.

Archery must be one of the oldest sports. Some say the first archers lived 5,000 years ago, some say 15,000 or more. Who knows? One thing sure is that drawings in ancient caves and in the tombs of the Egyptian Pharaohs far outdate the Christian era.

As a matter of fact, the bow and arrow undoubtedly changed the course of history. One day a smart Egyptian invented the bow and arrow and he went up to the reigning King Tut and spoke about as follows:

"Listen, Tut, old boy. We've been chumps fighting those Persians with lances and sling slots. I've got a little gadget here will outshoot them 10 to 1."

So the Egyptians went out and slaughtered the Persians by the thousands.

Thousands of years later an English king got smart and made his boys practice, and then they went out and ran the French ragged on their home grounds. Finally, archery is like chess, every nation claims to have invented it.

Knicks Suspend Walter Dukes

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Coach Vince Boryla of the New York Knickerbockers suspended Walter Dukes, 7-foot center, indefinitely and without pay today.

The former Seton Hall basketball star reported late for a workout yesterday. Because he had been late before, the coach fined him $100.

The Knicks said an argument followed, and Boryla announced the suspension today.

Mederos Fights Machen Tonight

Heavies To Meet At San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Sid Flaherty sends his latest protégé, heavyweight Eddie Machen of San Francisco, into the right tomorrow night for a national television date with Cuban Julio Mederos.

The scheduled 10-round bout, which hits the nation's TV screens at 10 p. m. (EST), will mark the grand opening of the newest fight arena in this red-hot boxing town—promoter Bernie Ford's San Francisco Garden. Ford and Flaherty match up like bacon and eggs.

The word is that Flaherty is grooming Machen, currently unbeaten in 11 pro fights, as a meat-ticket successor to Carl (Robo) Olson. It was Flaherty who piloted Olson to the middleweight title, which he lost last December to Sugar Ray Robinson after an unsuccessful try at Archie Moore's light heavyweight crown.

The bout will be the 23-year-old Cuban's third before a television audience from coast to coast. He was the lad in the other corner at the time of the tainted orange incident involving Harold Johnson in Philadelphia last year and came out with a technical knockout. In his other viedo showing he dropped a 10-round decision to Wayne Bethea at Miami Beach.

Other items on Mederos' record include a knockout by Bob Satterfield and a knockout of Roland La Starza. Last month he earned a decision over Claude Chapman at Boston.

Brackett Signs Bears' Contract

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—The Chicago Bears announced today the signing of their most highly regarded new player, tackle M. L. Brackett of Auburn. Brackett, 22, stands 6-4 and weighs 245 pounds.

"As far as our coaching staff and scouts were concerned, Brackett was the No. 1 player we had to sign," said Paddy Driscoll, the Bears' new head coach. "He should be of considerable help to both our offense and defense. In signing with the Bears, he turned down a very fine offer to play in Canada."

Rice is said to have been introduced in America in 1693, in Charleston, S. C.

In Memoriam

ROMAN—A tribute of love to the memory of our dear wife and mother, Mary Catherine Roman, who passed away Feb. 22, 1955.

Sad and sudden was the call. Of one so dearly loved by all. A bitter grief, a shock severe. It was to part with one so dear. We often sit and think of you. And speak of how you died. To think you couldn't say goodbye. Before you closed your eyes. For all your friends who loved you best. Oh, God grant you eternal rest.

DEVOTED HUSBAND
DAUGHTERS AND SON

12 loving memories of our dear son and brother, Edgar R. (Butch) Sharon, who passed away 5 years ago, February 22, 1951.

Loving memories never die. As years roll on and days pass by. A memory is kept of one we loved. And will never forget.

Sadly missed by His Mother, Brothers, Sisters & Sister-in-Law.

Tydings Seeks Demo Senate Nomination

Will Oppose Mahoney In Primary

By LOU PANOS

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 21 (AP)—Millard E. Tydings, U. S. senator from Maryland for 24 years before his defeat in a controversial 1950 election, filed today for Democratic nomination to his old seat.

The tall, sparse veteran of national party politics, now 65, became the fifth candidate in what shapes up as a traditionally bitter Maryland primary.

The campaign which resulted in Tydings' defeat six years ago by Republican John Marshall Butler was investigated by a Senate Elections subcommittee which criticized tactics employed by Butler aides.

Highlighted by the investigation was the use of a composite photo—made up of two separate pictures—purporting to show Tydings chatting with Earl Browder, former Communist Party boss in the United States.

Tydings, regarded as a political conservative and then chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, called publication of the photo in a campaign tabloid "totally false and fraudulent."

"Back Street" Charge

The subcommittee censured Butler campaign officials for what it called "back-street type" tactics. Butler has filed for renomination by the Republicans.

Ironically, one of the official papers signed by Tydings as he submitted his filing application and $270 fee in Annapolis was a loyalty affidavit required of all political candidates by Maryland law.

The former senator, entering the race just six days before the filing deadline, went in with the support of Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore, Democratic national committeeman, and former Gov. W. Preston Lane Jr.

George P. Mahoney, a stormy figure in Maryland politics and former chairman of the State Racing Commission, previously was the only other candidate with major backing. He had been endorsed by either all or at least a majority of members on county Democratic committees in 17 of the 23 counties.

Other candidates

The other candidates are former U. S. District Judge George W. Williams; Kenneth E. Lee, a lawyer, and Andrew J. Easter, a draftsman, all of Baltimore.

Besides Butler, Republican candidates include former Army Brig. Gen. D. John Markey; Henry J. Laque Jr., junk dealer from Linthicum; Earl E. Knepper of Clear Spring and Harold John Redgrave of Clarksburg.

Markey narrowly lost two previous bids for the Senate. In 1946 he was defeated in the general election by Democrat Herbert R. O'Connor. In 1950 he drew more popular votes than Butler but lost the nomination on the basis of county unit votes, which are similar to electoral college votes in presidential elections.

The Maryland primary will be May 7.

Tydings' defeat by Butler was the first of a string which saw Democrats lose both Senate seats and the governorship to Republicans, despite a 2-1 superiority in registered voters. The Republicans also gained a 4-3 edge in House seats in 1952 but the Democrats won it back in 1954.

Lane Over Mahoney

In 1950 Mahoney, campaigning for the nomination for governor, received a slight popular vote margin over Lane, but Lane won the primary on the basis of unit votes. He then was defeated by Republican Theodore R. McKeldin in the general election.

Two years later, Mahoney defeated Rep. Lansdale G. Sasser for the Senate nomination and lost the November election to Republican J. Glenn Beall. Mahoney's 405,000 votes that year were the greatest number ever given a Democrat in Maryland.

Mahoney's next bid was for the 1954 gubernatorial nomination, when he lost to former University of Maryland President H. C. Byrd, who in turn lost to McKeldin.

Asked whether the Senate subcommittee findings on the 1950 campaign had influenced his decision to run this time, Tydings replied:

"No, I did not consider that. The primary and overweening reason was that I really felt the people of Maryland wanted me to run. I have subjugated all other considerations to that one."

Moments earlier, in an off-the-cuff statement to a group of newsmen, he had told of messages he had received urging him to run. In three previous rough-and-tumble campaigns for statewide office Mahoney has alienated many party leaders, who had eagerly sought a "name" candidate to oppose him in the May 7 primary.

D'Alesandro had given every in-

Legislature Gets Sales Tax Raise Measure

Committee Approves Teachers Pay Bill

By CHARLES PUFFENBARGER

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Legislature was formally asked today to raise the sales tax rate from 2 to 3 per cent to provide a $400 a year raise for school teachers.

The House Ways and Means Committee put the plan into a bill which was introduced after it had overwhelmingly defeated a counter proposal to increase the income tax rate to provide the funds.

It also was told by the attorney general the pay raise bill could legally be acted on before the budget since its effective date isn't until 1957. There was no immediate indication, however, of when it might be brought out.

A vote on the sales tax plan was taken by the committee in executive session this morning after hearing protests from Salisbury merchants that the hike would seriously harm business there.

One report said the committee vote on the financing plan was 20-5 after only three members voted for the income tax plan forwarded by Del. Hanna (D-Wicomico) to meet protests from Salisbury. Hanna said, however, he would bring the income tax proposal out independently.

Sales Tax Hike Backed

The committee announced the sales tax plan Saturday in order to get reaction from the citizens. Letters and telegrams, mostly from teachers and school groups, overwhelmingly backed it.

The pay raise bill would give public school teachers a minimum scale of $3,200 to start, with a top of $5,000 after 11 years. The scale presently is $2,800 to $4,600, although every county supplements it higher.

This brought up the question in committee of whether the counties presently paying above the $3,200 figure would keep it there and use the county supplemental funds to grant local tax relief.

But the sales tax bill stated that the additional revenues should be used for the salary increases.

The plan would cost an estimated additional 11 million dollars in its first year—1957-58—and would rise to as much as 20 million as new teachers are hired.

Would Yield $18 Million

The tax increase would yield an estimated 18 million dollars, and some committee members favored an amendment that would pledge the surplus money to a bill recently enacted calling for an additional 5 million dollars next year in State aid to school construction.

They also discussed the possibility of specifying that the funds also be used to pay the cost of putting the teachers under social security, as a bill under consideration would do.

Milton C. Raver, executive secretary of the Maryland Teachers Assn., told the committee the proposed State pay scale would put Maryland's base above that of surrounding states—including the $3,100 a year figure of New Jersey—and put the schools in a better bargaining position for teachers.

Even if passed, the pay increase bill may be vetoed by Gov. McKeldin, who last night called it an attempt by the "school teacher lobby" to "circumvent orderliness and ram through its arbitrary wishes at the expense of other departments of the State government."

Hamilton P. Fox Jr., Wicomico state's attorney representing the Salisbury retail merchants, said they are not opposed to teachers getting a raise, but think it should be financed by an income tax increase, which he said would be more equitable.

Del. Lee (D-Montgomery) said Maryland's income tax rate on the "first bite" would be the highest in the country if raised from 2 to 3 per cent, whereas the sales tax rate of 3 per cent now is in effect in a dozen states.

Beer Bill Up

The Senate today set up for final passage a bill to ban foreign-owned companies from brewing beer in Maryland and also gave tentative approval to a bill to fix a "fair trade" price for cigarettes sold in Maryland.

The beer bill was advanced on voice vote without any discussion or debate. It is reportedly aimed at keeping a Canadian firm, Carling's, from establishing a brewery in the Baltimore area.

The Legislative Council bill to place cigarettes under fair trade regulations stirred plenty of opposition but was finally set up for passage on a vote of 15-11.

Sen. Jewell (D-Kent) led an unsuccessful move to have his county and four others—Caroline, Cecil, Garrett and Harford—exempted from the bill's provisions. If they had succeeded the bill would have been invalid since it would lose its statewide application.

Also at its afternoon session, the Senate passed and sent back to the House for concurrence in a technical amendment a bill to revise the formula for retirement benefits to teachers.

It is aimed at correcting inequities in the scale of benefits with the largest increases going to those in the lowest pay brackets. Its overall cost has been estimated at some $300,000.

Five Enlist In Army

Five local and area men have enlisted in the regular Army and an area man has re-enlisted at the local recruiting office.

Sfc. DeNeal Phillips, in charge of the local office, said yesterday four of the men will receive training in an armored division, while one will receive training in the Signal Corps and the other in the Transportation Corps.

Donald Kisser of Corinth, W. Va., re-enlisted in an armored division, while Lawrence E. Kerns of Paw Paw, W. Va., enlisted in the Signal Corps.

Enlisting in the armored division are Claude Spongaulde, city; Allen R. May, Hyndman, Pa., and Kenneth D. Judy, Paw Paw. Local Army Recruiter Expects German Bride To Arrive In City Next Month

A friend of Sfc. Harry C. Larrimore, local recruiter for the Army Reserve, introduced him to a German-born woman, Erna Uhlmann, of Munich, and the ensuing romance culminated in marriage for the serviceman.

He expects his 24-year-old brunette wife to arrive here some time in March. She has an appointment with the American consul in Frankfurt on February 28.

At that time she will be given a physical examination and X-rayed in order to get a visa to come to America. Sergeant Larrimore, a native of Stevenson near Baltimore, arrived in Queen City last December.

He was overseas twice and it was in 1954 that he met his future bride. They were married in Zurich, Switzerland, while Sgt. Larrimore was on furlough and the bride was on furlough along a scenic lake in the Black Forest area of Germany. During World War II, Sergeant Larrimore served in the Infantry and was in Europe in 1945. A veteran of 12 years in the service, he again was sent to Europe and met his wife.

She speaks English fluently, and for a while she was employed in a nurses' home.

Sergeant Larrimore said his wife's father served in the German Army during World War II and presumably was killed.

She has two sisters in the United States. One met a serviceman in Germany and came to America. Later the other sister crossed the Atlantic and married an American.

The local recruiter said his wife probably will come to the United States by boat, but he is hopeful she will make the trip by plane.

Braddock Farms Area Will Get City Water

Will Be Furnished By LaVale Group

Residents of the Braddock Farms area are going to be getting city water within the next few days.

A meeting was held last night at the Union Street Training Center of the City Health Department and it was decided by members of the Braddock Farms Improvement Association to get water from the LaVale Sanitary Commission, since the supply being used in that section was found to be contaminated.

The Health Department will begin the chlorination of the water lines as soon as necessary pipe meters, and connections are received. They are expected in the next few days.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, and J. B. Dowling, Health Department sanitarian, have been working along with the commission in efforts to get a better water supply for the section.

Some 46 families of the area have agreed to get the water from the commission. Three other residents were not contacted as they were out of town.

The Health Department will keep a close check on the water supply going to the residents of that area. Attending last night's meeting from the Improvement Association were Claude O. Twigg, Paul E. Crowe, Floyd L. Valentine, Herbert H. Jewell while C. A. Fisher and Harry Kaufman represented the LaVale Sanitary Commission.

2 High Schools To Get Freedom Awards Today

Fort Hill And Allegany Honored

Both Cumberland public high schools are among the recipients of Freedom's Foundation awards which are being presented today at Valley Forge, Pa., to American citizens, organizations and schools throughout the United States.

Both Allegany and Fort Hill High schools are receiving $100 and George Washington honor medals for editorials which appeared in their school newspapers.

In addition, Allegany is receiving another honor medal award for a campaign to abolish the electoral college which was conducted by the school's citizenship class.

The Fort Hill prize is being awarded for an editorial "In Freedom's Cause," which appeared in The Sentinel last October 26. Virginia Killard is editor of the school paper and Miss Mary M. Calamine is the faculty advisor. The prize-winning editorial was written by Harry King.

Cites American Way
It read in part:

"No other country in the world can point with such pride to the accomplishment of their government and their people to the extent that Americans can. The main reason behind the progress of America is that the people have courage to step forward for freedom. This courage has been inspired by the rights to worship God, to speak and to assemble freely, to trial by jury, to free elections.

"Through depressions and prosperity, through war and peace, through the entire growth of this nation, the American people have strengthened their freedom. Truly one cannot deny the magnificence of the American Way of Life."

Freedom And Duty
Allegany's prize-winning editorial, which appeared in a recent issue of the Alcohol Mirror, was written by Sharon Growden. It read in part:

"... Freedom goes on and on. It is your whole life as long as you can distinguish right from wrong. Godliness from worldliness. ... Freedom, it is your job; it is everybody's job and it is the most important job in the world."

Miss Mary E. Murray, faculty advisor for the Alcohol Mirror and instructor of the citizenship class as well, plans to leave here about 8 o'clock this morning for Valley Forge along with girls from her class.

Miss Murray and Eleanor Murphy will be in Valley Forge by 3:15 p. m. today in time to receive the honor medal award in behalf in the citizenship class, which started a campaign that prompted Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde to introduce a resolution calling for the abolition of the electoral college for the election of the President and Vice President of the United States.

McKeldin Honored
Other Allegany students who will make the trip to Valley Forge today are Sharon Growden, Patsy McGill, Sondra Wagner and Peggy Thompson.

Governor Theodore R. McKeldin was the most prominent Marylander announced as a winner of one of the 1955 Freedom Awards of Freedom's Foundation at Valley Forge. He receives a $50 second place award and an honor medal for public address.

Other Maryland cities besides Cumberland and Annapolis which had prize winners were Baltimore, Glen Burnie, Hagerstown, Kensington, Reisterstown, Silver Spring and Towson. Only Baltimore, with 13 awards; Cumberland, with three; and Kensington, with two, had more than one freedom prize.

Parking Lot Plan Related To Committee

Details of the Pigeon Hole Parking plan were related to a Chamber of Commerce subcommittee yesterday afternoon in City Hall.

The plan was explained by W. P. Page, Harrisburg, Pa., a representative of a Pittsburgh construction firm, before members of the Off-Street Parking subcommittee of the Chamber's Civic Affairs Committee, Mayor Roy W. Eves and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum.

The group, headed by Robert Little Ebert, has held several meetings in City Hall to explore the possibilities of providing additional space for off-street parking.

Page said the cost of the pigeon hole parking system runs from $1,350 to $1,500 a space, minus land costs. Ramps built in Pittsburgh cost from $1,900 to $2,000, he said.

The plan, which allows the garage to "go into the air" requires less ground space than a conventional parking lot. Motorists drive their cars into the entrance and lock the doors, and the vehicle is picked up by a "parker" and taken by elevator to an empty stall.

The committee feels more parking space should be provided to keep streets free for moving the greater number of vehicles and favors private as opposed to municipal operation.

Chest Directors To Hear Report

The Executive Board of the Cumberland Community Chest will receive a report of the Biennial National Conference of the Community Chests and Councils of America at its meeting March 1 at 7:30 p. m.

The report will be presented by Mrs. Anne B. Everline, executive secretary, who attended the meeting held in Detroit February 7 through 10.

Attending were over 1,000 representatives of Community Chests and United Funds in the United States, Canada and Hawaii.

The report will include a briefing on the Business Sponsor Program used in Mobile, Ala., to gain support from small firms for the United Fund held in that city.

Far in advance of the campaign, firms are asked to become business sponsors of the fund. The sponsors are visited at campaign time for financial aid.

Conlon Is Named To Advisory Group

Thomas F. Conlon Sr., local postmaster, has been named to the Maryland State Advisory Committee.

Conlon, who served two years as president of the State of Maryland Postmasters Association, has been notified of his appointment by John P. Fixa, San Francisco postmaster, who is president of the National Association. The local postmaster is the county chairman of the membership committee of the national group.

To Attend Celebration

Julius E. Schindler, Edith M. Brotemarkle and Nelson W. Russler, past grand chancellors of Grand Lodge Council of Maryland Knights of Pythias, and J. Walter McKee, member of the Grand Tribunal of the Grand Lodge, all of Cumberland, will attend the anniversary celebration of Garrett Lodge No. 113, C. of P. Friday, in the state armory at Oakland.
